PARKING BILL PASSED

By Borough Council. Borough Council has authorized a $38,000 bond issue to acquire and develop land for the long-planned 200-car parking yard in the area bounded by Park Place, Nassau Street, Vandeventer Avenue and Moore Street.

A resolution providing for the bond issue and for the acquisition of five tracts of land in the area was passed by a 5-0 vote at Council's December meeting Tuesday night. Councilman Albert A. Austen was absent. The vote followed a two-hour public hearing attended by about 50 persons.

Frederick English, attorney for The Madison Street Group, an organization of residents opposed to the parking yard, presented Council with petitions signed by 166 persons. The petitions opposed the parking yard on the ground that the placing of entrances and exits might increase the amount of traffic on Madison Street, thereby causing a safety hazard.

Mayor Raymond F. Male, Council authorized an appropriation not in excess of $300 to begin a stream profile with the acquisition of land and was not concerned with the specific question of location of entrances and exits. He said the opinions of area residents would be considered when these questions were raised.

THE NUMBER AT THE NORTH POLE IS WA 4-3883: Henry Schultz, 76 years old and blind, is once again pursuing his favorite pastime as he talks to Princeton area children who call Santa Claus. He'll be conversing with them every afternoon from 3 to 6 through Christmas Eve.

Mrs. David Eidman, a member of The Madison Street Group, said she opposed the resolution because she felt it would tend to destroy Princeton's character as "a quiet, intellectual center." Leonard LaPlaca of the Greater Princeton Chamber of Commerce and Civic Council said that construction of the parking yard would not be detrimental to Princeton's residential character and added that the parking yard was "absolutely necessary" to Nassau Street businessmen.

The resolution fixes total cost of the parking yard at $40,000, of which $2,000 will be taken from the Borough's capital improvement fund to provide immediate down payments on some of the property. The bond issue will thus be for $38,000. Of the $40,000 figure, $30,000 is earmarked for acquisition and $10,000 for improvement of the property.

Council approved a resolution of the zoning board which will allow Leigh Antiques, Inc., to use the historic property at 19 Vandeventer Avenue as an antique shop. The resolution was passed by the zoning board with limitations on the nature of the business to be conducted on the premises.

Council authorized an appropriation not in excess of $300 to begin a stream profile of Harry's Brook within the Borough. An appropriation which will cover the entire project was deferred for next year's budget.

Council approved the appointment of Arthur Jackson as a chairman on the Borough police force. At the same time Council accepted the resignation of Patrolman Richard J. Panicaro.

A public hearing was scheduled for Wednesday, December 27, on an ordinance to install parking meters in the Tulane West parking yard, formerly The Lamplighter property. The ordinance would also provide for two-hour parking in the yard.

Council confirmed the election of Alfred W. Packer as fire chief in the Borough. It also ratified the election of Samuel J. Davison as first assistant chief and Robert F. Mooney as second assistant chief.

Council approved the appointment of William Smyth to the advisory committee on Marquand Park. Mr. Smyth will serve until January, 1963, filling the unexpired term of John R. Arscott who has resigned.

A letter from the executive board of the Council of Community Services requesting Council to provide for the fluoridation of Princeton's water supply was turned over to Councilman William H. Walker who said he would contact officials of the Princeton Water Company and the board of health.

MOTEL PLANNED

Why Give Aid to This DICTATOR?

by A. N. SPANEL, Chairman
International Latex Corporation

Gamal Abdel Nasser, the small-bore Hitler on the Nile, is neck-deep in trouble.

His economy is bogged down, the people more wretchedly poor than ever. The ruthless looting of private property in the name of Nasser's special brand of socialism is spreading panic and disaffection through the upper and middle classes. At the same time the secession of Syria has wrecked the pretensions of the United Arab Republic; Egypt, neither Arab nor a republic, is now "united" only with itself.

In this time of frustration and falling prestige, the Cairo dictator has unveiled a sensational conspiracy, complete with "confessions" by the top villains. Wicked imperialists, it appears, have been plotting to assassinate the boss-man, overthrow his glorious regime and arm Israel for aggressions against its neighbors.

A providential melodrama to mask the dictator's failures and divert attention from his defeats! But only the most naive will assume that the conjuncture of events is accidental. Nasser desperately needed a face-saver. The fantasy of murder and coup d'etat has obviously been concocted to meet the need.

CONJURED PLOTS MASK FAILURES

It isn't even original. When things go bad, the discovery of a "plot," followed by a spectacular trial, is standard procedure in the manual of modern tyrants. If your subjects are hungry, feed them "red herrings." If your followers are increasingly angry and demoralized, produce some impressive scapegoats, preferably foreign devils.

The stellar role in Nasser's police thriller has been assigned to France. Other free nations—Italy, Switzerland, Belgium, Japan, Israel are implicated in supporting roles. A collection of Egyptians serve as extras. Leading newspapers everywhere have reviewed the story.

Four French diplomats, members of an official Commission which has been in Cairo for 18 months negotiating about sequestered French properties, are cast as the main plotters. And at least two of them, Henri Mouton and Jean-Paul Belhivier, allegedly "confessed" within three or four days after their arrest; so, of course, have all the Egyptians.

The fantasy is as clumsy as it is unconvincing. If the French Government were plotting a coup d'etat in Egypt, as charged, it would hardly entrust the delicate enterprise to diplomats living in glass houses—men who were under constant surveillance, their phones tapped, their every conversation and contact monitored. The Swiss Embassy, ever jealous of its reputation as an honest neutral, would hardly have joined such a harebrained undertaking. Only a dictatorship with a tough hide and an addiction to the Big Lie would dare to compound such absurdities.

The crowning absurdity is that seasoned diplomats would, within a few days after their arrest, of their own free will admit everything.

FORCING CONFESSIONS

When free governments arrest spies and saboteurs, domestic or foreign, they need all the resources of their police and judicial systems to prove it. But the totalitarianists dispense with such old-fashioned inconveniences. They have developed techniques for extracting confession, into a fine art.

Referring to this totalitarian black magic, C. L. Sulzberger recently wrote in the New York Times: "We saw in the famous Stalin purge trials, the satellite anti-Tito trials and fake spy trials both in Russia and Eastern Europe how the accused admitted patently false and often impossible sins. The Nazi Gestapo made victims implicate real persons whom they knew. But the M.V.D. system has been to force implication of people the accused never knew and had not even seen."

Khrushchev himself, in the recent 22nd Congress of his ruling party, admitted that his gory predecessor had murdered thousands of innocent men and women—all of them "self-confessed" plotters. Indeed, there is a whole literature of analyses of brainwashing and torture to produce "confessions" as practised by dictators.

Evidently Nasser has been an apt pupil of both the Red and the Brown practitioners of these obscene arts. After all, even if the French diplomats were guilty, common sense is our guarantee that they would not have confessed it all so promptly and obligingly, as Cairo wants the world to believe they did. The odor of the torture chamber and the pharmacopoeia of brain-numbing drugs, hang thick over the whole affair.

* * *

The Free World, and the United States especially, have neither the moral nor the political right to look on supinely, indifferently, while incredible confessions are squeezed out of the citizens of a loyal ally.

FANTASTIC LARCENY

Nasser began his unsavory career with a fantastic piece of larceny when he seized the Suez Canal. Unfortunately he was allowed to keep the loot, so that today he alone decides what countries may or may not use that vital artery of world commerce. Since then he has applied his talents for thievery by seizing all attractive private businesses and fortunes in his own country. And now he caps the systematic looting with a plot-and-purge sensation of the familiar Nazi and Communist type. His contempt for world opinion seems to have grown in direct ratio to his political and economic failures.

America's burdened taxpayers have been loading this dictator with millions in loans and grants, thereby helping to subsidize his crimes and insults even to the point of badgering and torturing the plenipotentiaries of France, our traditional Ally. The thought is shocking and humiliating. It is a tragic irony that you and I, through our Government, have in some measure been financing Nasser's depredations!

OUR DUTY NOW

If Nasser's Egypt continues to get away with its highhanded conduct, it will assuredly provide a tempting example to other predatory dictators. They will see it as proof that they can engage in large-scale larceny studded with torture without risking the loss of American aid.

How long shall we subsidize with taxpayers' dollars evil dictatorships that engage in torture, steal private property, defy the conscience of free men?

The time is over-ripe for the United States to take a new and hard look at this dismal picture. And clearly Nasser has earned the distinction of being the first object of this scrutiny—without a day's delay. History will not forgive us if we let him get away with his latest infamy!

P.U.C.F. NEEDS $12,000

To Reach $250,000 Goal. The Princeton United Community Fund is about $12,000 short of its goal of $250,000, it was announced this week. The United Fund has received contributions totalling $238,214.

Robert V. Dilley, campaign chairman, has called upon division chairmen and volunteers to make a final effort to complete solicitation. He said that the success of the campaign will assure comprehensive services by the Fund's 18 member agencies.

Totals by division are: Special Gifts, $86,197; Research and Industrial, $64,526; Professions, $28,548; Princeton University, $23,172; Neighborhood, $19,000; Mercantile, $9,228; Building Trades, $3,740; and Princeton Shopping Center, $1,392.

ROUND-UP

Princetonians and Princeton scenes will be on television Sunday night at 10 when the DuPont Show is aired on Channels 3 and 4. They'll be part of the opening commercial, which was filmed here earlier this year.

George F. Kennan, sometime Princetonian, was mentioned this week in U.S. News and World Report as the next U.S. Ambassador to Russia. A recognized expert on Soviet affairs, Mr. Kennan has already had one such tour of duty in Moscow.

The numerous narrow bridges on the outskirts of town were in the news again this week. . . . at 1:45 Monday morning, Miss Joyce H. McKee, 39, 8-A Sergeant Street, skidded on ice on the Harrison Street span, striking both sides before coming to a sideways stop. . . . later that day, she was admitted to Princeton Hospital for bruised knees.

Person To Person

We cast a skeptical eye when a fellow told us he knew of a T.V. system that works under water, and is infinitely more practical than a pen that writes under water. An outlandish idea? No. When we questioned him we found that it's a development of the U. S. Navy, for underwater search and oceanographic work. The camera probes the depths and transmits what it sees to T.V. sets on the surface, or in submarines.

It seems as though the Navy comes up with a new idea or development every week, but they emphasize that the key to survival is not only in such forward strides in technology, but is in equal progress in human relations and management practices. In fact they are practicing what they preach. The Navy develops personal knowledge, leadership, morale, and individual moral responsibility in all its men from top to bottom through many schools and their Leadership Program. They are effectively teaching Navy men to cope with the hectic world in which they operate, with resulting high standards that can give us all considerable satisfaction and pride in the knowledge that it is OUR Navy.

Come to think of it, the same high management practices and moral responsibility of people are greatly to be desired in all walks of life and especially in the firms with whom you deal. For your many advantages may we please serve you? Kammler Buick-Pontiac Co., Route 206, opposite Princeton Airport, WA 1-2222.

possible internal injuries. A North Brunswick motorist whacked the Kingston bridge, damaging his car but not himself. . . . Township Police announced that inasmuch as most accidents on the Mercer Street bridge over Stony Brook occur at night, unusually bright lights will be installed at each end.

For 48 hours last weekend the thermometer never topped freezing. . . . it reached a season low of 18 Saturday morning. . . . rain and snow followed, measuring to 32 inches of precipitation and about two inches of snow.

A beefy thief who enjoys beef may have been the culprit in a burglary at Cap and Gown Club on Prospect Street. . . . steward George Marshall reported to Borough Police the loss of an electric meat slicer, valued at $300, weighing 300 pounds.

Minor accidents were in the news: Melissa Webster, 10, 11 Morven Place, riding her bicycle on the Nassau Street sidewalk near South's Garage, was struck Saturday by a car being inched out of the driveway there past an obstruction by Patrick J. Kelleher, 44, 176 Parkside Drive. . . . she was treated at Princeton Hospital for abrasions of the right knee and leg.

Mrs. Joyce L. LeFens, 34, of Franklin Park, was halted for Nassau Street traffic just east of Witherspoon Street when her car was struck and driven 15 feet forward by another operated by Tillman T. Bunch, 48, 38 Fairway Drive. . . . a garbage truck parked near the home of Mrs. A. M. Hawkins, 86 Longview, took off while the driver was collecting refuse, raised considerable havoc with a Japanese cherry tree, a rosebush, a section of drainpipe and the brick front steps.

"Heartache Is Just Around The Corner . . ."

From the 1961 TOWN TOPICS Christmas appeal:

"The case of 9-year old Karen and Mary, approaching 3, speaks not only for these two heguiling youngsters but for all of the others who seem to sense that heartache is just around the corner. There is a great deal of love in this small, fatherless household but there can be little hope. Several short weeks ago Mrs. G. still as cheerful as the summer sun, returned from the hospital to a bed she will probably never leave. She knows that there are no compromises with cancer in its final stages. Yet she prays that her children, who are all she has in this world, will be cared for and that some day they will understand how desperately they were wanted."

Six days after the Christmas Fund had opened, contributions stood at $1,634.50. The need in numerous homes in Princeton was great; the help offered would mean not only a vastly different — and brighter — Christmas but would have a beneficial effect for months to come. Checks should be made payable to the TOWN TOPICS Christmas Fund and mailed to Post Office Box 664, Princeton, N. J.

News Of The THEATRES

TRIANGLE SHOW OPENS

Senior Talent Marks "Tour." The subject of this year's Triangle Show, "Tour de Farce," seems to be girls, girls, girls. Of course they aren't really, and that's what makes for so much fun—both for the capable cast and the four full-house audiences at McCarter Theatre last weekend. The title is an apt description as the 70-year-old Triangle Club presents a tour that spans 50 years and all elements of farce.

The pace of the show is fast and furious, and although opening night showed some weaknesses of material, careful editing and pruning should make it slick enough to make the Club's first coast-to-coast tour a success. The singing this year seemed to be fuller than in past years and the dancing was excellent.

In fact the dancing is the first thing that strikes one's eye, in an otherwise undistinguished opening number. It reaches a peak in a lovely, non-farce number ( slated for television performance), "Tony's Balloon." Much credit must be given to choreographer Peter Hamilton for ingenious dance arrangements, but the entire cast does justice to his work.

The two production numbers, a take-off on the Hollywood musical of the 30's, "Broadway Melody of 1932," and a look at the old-time burlesque of 1915, are colorful (thanks to the costuming work of Jean Vaughan) and funny. Junior John Simon (who conducted the orchestra) wrote music and lyrics for the former number which shows a remarkable musical talent as well as an addiction to old movies.

A Note From Josh Logan. Individual talent, indeed, marked the whole show, which is strange in a musical revue of the kind "Tour de Farce" purports to be. Triangle alumnus Joshua Logan says in his program notes that some years ago football players outnumbered Triangle performers and vice-versa. He wasn't thinking about 1962, but he was right: the football team will lose three key seniors, but Triangle will lose six very talented men who carry the "Tour."

President Sandy Kennedy (who played Gertrude Lawrence's son in "The King and I" on Broadway) and Bert Wunderlich (he plays a railroad locomotive in the final Triangle number) come in for much of the praise. Kennedy is an accomplished singer (we wish he could have done Jeff Moss' lovely ballad, "Somewhere Else," as a solo), and Wunderlich is a laugh-getter even with inferior material or minor roles (scene-stealing can be condoned when done by an accomplished performer). Other seniors who will be missed include vice-president John S. Minton (what a magnificent sight in satin lounging pajamas); Hugh Bartlett (who does a wonderful song-and-dance routine as the stock figure, "Pops," in the movie parody); Roy T. Young (a wonderfully prim and proper little girl in "Tony's Balloon"); and Jim Dadds, who has the unlikely role of Nikita Khrushchev.

The top acts, aside from the production numbers and the ballad, were "The 12th Day of Christmas" ("On the 12th day of Christmas Nikita gave to me . . ."); the traditional Mingo Junction choral society doing "The Saga of Olive O'Toole"; a wonderful Jazz version of the Chicken Little fairy tale (again the work of Simon) and most of the final burlesque of a burlesque.

Far less satisfying are a quartet glorifying prison life which is just uninteresting; the second act opener, "Minnesota Polka," which lacks life; and a parody of football cheerleaders which drags a poor joke tout to interminable length. Also dragged out unmercifully is a blackout joke (apparently rejected for the show of two years ago) which is too obvious to be funny.

With the emphasis on girls, it must follow that the material of the show is a little more risqué than in past years. Happily, "Tour" moves fast enough to gloss over most of the lapses into poor taste, but the others (notably a barber-shop quartet) certainly serve to detract from the production.

On the whole, however, "Tour de Farce" is a usually capable, many times first rate Triangle Club production. It's unfortunate, in many respects, that the club can't put on more Princeton performances so that the ingenuity (and ingenuity it is—as the writing of book, lyrics and music attest) of some very talented University undergraduates can be exposed here more often. Triangle's healthy tradition won't suffer from "Tour de Farce."

"GHOSTS" GRIPPING

Leueen MacGrath Excellent. The second production in David Ross' Isen cycle, "Ghosts," played to an enthusiastic capacity audience at McCarter Monday night, and the applause was well deserved all around. The characters were consistently well portrayed, and the long passages of dialogue flowed smoothly.

As Mrs. Alving, Leueen MacGrath was superb: she ran the gamut of womanly emotions successfully, and held the play's theme in perfect control throughout. To those who have seen her on Broadway, and particularly in "Tiger at the Gates," the range of her voice came as no surprise, and her expressions and motions matched it in quality.

As the matter of "humbug," John McQuade did ample justice to the part of Engstrand. He entered wholeheartedly into the role, and provided just the right amount of satirical contrast to Manders. The conflict with his daughter was ably brought out.

Carrie Nye did well by Regina, torn between two ways of life. Her relationship with Mrs. Alving was particularly fascinating in its development, and her ultimate choice of position was beautifully played in its bitterness.

Manders Overdone. In the portrayal of the hypocritical and bewildered clergyman, Manders, Shepherd Strudwick performed less capably. By leaning too far into "sincerity," he fell into the pit of cartooning the well-meaning parson, whose platitudes caused so much grief. Although the character is obviously intended as a caricature, Manders, in Mr. Strudwick's hands, became an object of laughter rather than scorn. The lines were drawn too heavily.

Joseph Marino, whose theatrical biography is covered in six lines by the program notes, gave a startling and sharp presentation of Oswald. He began in the first two acts in a low key, and built up to a remarkable crescendo in the final scene, which he and Miss MacGrath played with a breathtaking finality.

"Ghosts" is his first New

SHALL WE DANCE—OR TWIST? Tony Hancock's rhumba style doesn't seem to agree with that of Margit Saar in the British comedy "Call Me Genius" continuing through Saturday at the Garden. George Sanders is co-starred in the color farce.

York part, and it is evident from his portrayal of Oswald that he is off to an excellent beginning at the age of 22. Ibsen's remarkable exploration of physical and moral degradation came through superbly through the abilities of these five, and the directorial skill of Mr. Ross. "Ghosts" was an excellent beginning to the "off-Broadway season" at McCarter.

WYCHERLEY AT MURRAY
To Run Through Saturday.
The Community Players' production of William Wycherley's "The Country Wife" will open this Wednesday at 8:30 with additional performances scheduled for Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

A Restoration farce, the play deals with innocent and not-so-innocent maidens, and deceived husbands and the hero pretends to be a eunuch. The costumes are authentic for the period, and Joel Richards of Trenton has created special hairstyles for the women. The men will appear in wigs.

Tickets at $2 are available at the University Store and at the box office. University faculty and students may obtain a special rate of $1.50.

THE PLAYHOUSE

Paris Blues (December 13-19). After exploring the seamy side of America's poolrooms in "The Hustler," busy Paul Newman takes on a tour of the gloomy side of Paris in another off-beat, and well-acted film. Sidney Poitier and Joanne Woodward are co-starred in the artistic Sam Shaw production.

"Paris Blues" is the story of two American jazz expatriates who are trying to create a new form of music. They fall in love, and the question of staying or leaving becomes their major decision to make. However, the plot is subservient to brilliant individual scenes, such as the degradation of a dope-addict guitarist or the musical duel between Newman and Louis Armstrong (again reminiscent of "The Hustler").

Director Martin Ritt shows a strong sense of mood, and cameraman Alexander Trauner portrays not Paris in the Spring, but the day-to-day confusion of a large city. Musical score by Duke Ellington. Rating: an intense, bounding picture of the Left Bank.

Bridge to the Sun (December 20-26) is the true story of an American girl who marries a Japanese diplomat before Pearl Harbor and then elects to spend the war in exile with her husband in Japan. It is interesting in that it may be the first American picture to give a partially sympathetic treatment of the Japanese during the war.

Carroll Baker plays the Tennessee-born girl who marries James Shigeta. Her problems of adjustment in the male-dominated society of Japan provide the most realistic elements of the film. Unfortunately, when the war starts it's difficult to tell truth from pure melodrama, as Shigeta (a "good guy") associates himself with an underground peace movement and constantly ducks secret police.

This seems to be the year of sentimentality in the movies and the ending of "Bridge" is no exception. However, the fact that it is fact makes it somewhat more palatable. Filmed in Japan and Washington, from an "autobiographical novel" by Gwen Terasaki. Rating: adequate handling of the traditional East-West theme.

THE GARDEN

Call Me Genius (December 10-16) is a British farce starring Tony Hancock, one of England's top television comedians, in his film debut. The picture takes humorous digs at all types of society, from the organization man to art connoisseurs and beatniks.

The plot concerns a conventional London clerk who suddenly decides that Gauguin had the right idea. He quits his job and goes to Paris with all the fervor of the great artist's dedication. Unfortunately, he has none of the great artist's talent. He still manages to hoodwink the art world and returns home with a magnificent exit line.

Hancock is a zany, but assured comic, thoroughly at ease with the script provided by Alan Simpson and Ray Galton, who have been his writers for eight years. Margit Saar adds female loveliness, and George Sanders adds incompetent acting. Rating: delightful fun.

The Cheaters (December 17-23) is a picture of French youth in the biting tradition of "La Dolce Vita." Marcel Carne directed the film from his own story with a sure hand and one has the feeling that it could almost be documentary, a form of pictorial journalism.

The story line follows a young couple, Jacques Charrier (Bridgette Bardot's ex-husband) and Pascale Petit, who are very much in love and wish to cease all amoral living. As with most youth, however, they are also very confused and easily led into a corrupting life by a bullying blackmailer and a degraded aristocrat.

Paris is the background, but, as in "Paris Blues," it is not the "City of Light" but rather a metropolis in which life on all levels is being lived. Carne has caught a cross-section of confused young adults who are constantly cheating themselves of a valuable life. In French, with English titles. Rating: a skillful look in the gutter.

IT'S NEW

To Us

FOR THE ROOFTREE

Four Walls Around a Tree. Climbing shakily down from a ladder and trailing a piece of left-over laurel roping, we invite you to consider gifts for the home, or, if you prefer, the people who live in the home, and the Christmas decorations that light up the season.

Those winking little Italian lights Cummins and Country Mouse will last for nine years if you leave them on eight hours a day for the entire month of December. Country Mouse's arithmetic, not ours.)

If you use candles on your tree, Country Mouse has candle clips adjustable to the angles of the tree branches—6 cents each.

There's a natural beeswax candle in this shop that is one, long continuous roll of wax in the original comb-like texture. You can unroll it and roll it up again, if you want to.)

Lights! Lights! Gourmet suggests, for your candles, the Danish wreaths made of red berries, dried flowers, lichen, cones and nuts. The wreaths will take a two-inch one-dollar candle. Wreaths are $2.95.

Cummins candles are quivering with sequins. "Sequalite" is a straight glass tumbler with gold, green or red sequins on the outside, and candle-wax right up to the brim.

A gold-brushed metal stand lifts up a brandy-shaped sequined glass with the candle inside. Glass is barrel-shaped.

Country Mouse suggests, for table or mantle, a group of jewel candle-holders, each one shaped like a brandy glass and mounted on a slender stalk of black metal. Each stalk is a different height, each glass a different jewel tone for the candle to conceal the black stands, and you have quite a still-life. Each piece is $3.

Gourmet's candle-holders are seven and 11 inches tall, in teal or painted bright green, blue, red, purple, gold, like egg cups on long stems.

Cummins launches a sleigh made of wicker splashed with random gold confetti and pulled by a racy reindeer, all gold. Two sizes. Then, there's a two-piece sunburst which you put together, and a fairy-tale gold bird with bristling wings and eyes that roll like a doll's. You'll also want several clear plastic icicles, faceted like prisms, 20 cents each.

Green and True, Gene Seal, of course, has the real thing: roping in white pine, laurel or hemlock, cut greens, and holly. Little Christmas arrangements made of gilded leaves, nuts or artificial fruit, have been made in Santa Claus vases or low bowls.

The various rooms of the house respond to Christmas, if that is your choice. Home Decor has Christmas bath-mats and lid covers, of all things, with stockings, calendars, towels, aprons and so on, all

Far Away

Something imported can be something important too. Christmas. Look at Rina Galleries' inlaid wooden desk pieces, of lemon wood, olive wood, eucalyptus. A subtly serving tray, a mysterious box, a letter-opener, letter-holder, all hand made and beautifully so, in Israel.

From long ago, as well as far away, there is the pre-Columbian sculpture in the "Under $100" collection at Gallery 100, including a cat pitcher with a tall, cylindrical "mouth" rising from his back.

Princeton Gift on Palmer Square has pewter from Holland. A classic, long-throated vase in three sizes, designed with round base and slender neck (3, 6, 8 inches high). Buy it in complete sets, or in individual small pieces.

In the general spirit. A solid Christmas red towel without decoration of any kind—that's a real find, and Home Decor has one.

Farkouh produces a narrow table runner with a candle and ribbon design to lay over a white damask; cloth the has those, too! Sharp, triangular trees stand out against the snowy ground of a foam-backed placemat.

Clayton's traditional tablecloth is Belgian linen, with hand-printed camellias, holly and poinsettias. Solid linen ovals edged with holly red and Christmas green are useful for a holiday table. Napkins match. White double-damask, for purists, is $15-$30, with 8 or 12 napkins to match.

Both the Howe Nurseries and Obal's Garden Market will have live trees. Norway and Colorado spruce are favorites at Howe's; Coster Blue spruce, hemlock, Douglas fir are favorites at Obal's.

Berried English or American holly, live, can be planted later if you buy from Obal's. Poinsettias, spruce and holly will last forever, if you buy from Country Mouse, which has all those things in flagrant, artificial splendor.

DOWN, FOAM

We Shop for Furniture. Kroeier's "Verve" group, a name that will prod you into some life, is featured at Ivy Manor, in the Shopping Center, where you may examine the modern, trimmed-down lines of sofas and chairs. "Modified modern," is the term Ivy uses.

Modified Colonial at Ivy, begins with a foam-filled cushion and back laid against a rocker. $24.50, with footstool, $11.50 more.

Both Ivy and Nassau Interiors have Lane Cedar Chests for young hopefuls, or just for women who need a place to store things. At Ivy, the price range is $49.95 to $119.95, the style range from Colonial to Scandinavian modern. Nassau Interiors' are walnut and modern.

We liked Ivy's boomerang side table, which is a tall round table rising from an open area, rather like a boomerang, if you have an imagination. —Continued on Page 8

"But She's Got Everything She Needs..."

That may be, but we'll bet she doesn't have any of these. We've made a list of unusual presents for the unusual people on your list, gifts that begin at $1 and go soaring from there.

Hot-dog roaster. Johnson Electric, on Tulane. Cooks six in 90 seconds, but don't use it for sausages.

Spanish chests. Money Tree. Resplendent, rough-hewn, dark complexioned, ranging in size from a 16-inch with baby drawers ($36) to a dowager three feet long, $125.

Mink hot-mitt. Farkouh. Quilted gold mitt with a mink cuff $1.

Goose-down pillow. Home Decor. Made of European goose-down and covered with broadened white satin.

It's New To Us

tion. Anyhow, it's a nice table.

A walnut-finish desk ($109) is deeper than the usual desk, with three drawers emerging from a rising sweep at the rear.

For hi-fi, Ivy offers an in-laid wood cabinet in brick design, with plain doors on the front. For games, the shop has Viko's group with plastic-top

A bed pillow, $14.98

Antique desk sets. Princeton Gift Shop. Reproductions of classic figures in French gold antique finish: quill stands, pencil urns, bookends, ink stands, some mounted on Carrara marble.

Coffee tree. Gene Seal. A real coffee tree, growing in a tub. (You hold your cup under a branch...)

Joan Sutherland. Music Center. The great soprano sings in "Messiah" with the London Symphony Orchestra and Chorus in a new recording.

table and folding chairs, all five pieces, $95. Choice of eight colors, which is more than you get in most card games.

Chairs for a game room are $25.50, with loose, reversible, foam-filled cushions, and walnut frames.

Rug Mart's suggestion is a set of stack stools consisting of four rust-colored cushions on 4-legged stools about 15 inches square. These four stack to three feet in height and they come in modern walnut and Colonial maple, $59.95.

Up the Road. In the New Brunswick store of the Schwartz Furniture Company, the game table is a swivel job that works itself down to cocktail height (whatever "cocktail height" may be; depends on how many rounds of drinks, seems to us.)

Anyhow, this is a Sophisticate table by Tomlinson, in spice brown with a small burl in the center. It's 42-inches in diameter, and it spins up and down just like a piano stool, for gaming or drinking.

Sophisticate's end table is a rounded-off square with a modified gallery and a square shelf below. It is inlaid, too, in a handsome design. The color is emberglow.

Schwartz's new dining chair in the Sophisticate line is small in scale with a moderately high, narrow back. Seat and back are upholstered, with occasional button tufting.

Down the Road. Viking has a fruit-bowl end table which is really a teak tray with a slight scoop in the middle. Its inlay is in a concentric pattern of three circles, and it's much too attractive to put anything into at all, $39.50.

However, next to it you might put Nassau Interiors' low-backed Danish chair with its pointed oval seat and widely spreading spindle back.

Nassau Int. also has Founders' two nested tables of oiled walnut and an oiled walnut serving cart with black, impervious top.

We were almost taken in by the low "campaign chest" with its two rows of four drawers, finished with squared, bronze handles. It's not a chest at all, but Nassau Interiors' newest record cabinet. Drawers are really doors. Stands 18-plus inches high.

Two deeply tufted pieces in Nassau Interiors may be just for your house this Christmas. One is a tidy little loveseat with low back and arms, and an air of sturdy, stubby charm. The other is a semi-barrel chair with deeply tufted back, now upholstered in a coffee-colored slub fabric, but available in others.

Seat, Floor. The Silver Shop on Palmer Square branches out to a loveseat with a fruit-wood frame and some fine old satin upholstery. Next to it, you'll find a black painted wooden end table, round, with a pink "marble" top and some gold paint trim.

For walking on and sitting on and vacuuming, several shops have rugs for Christmas. Notable among these, as you might guess, is the Rug Mart, where Karistan's "Happiness Rugs" are in favor at the moment. These are cotton rugs, with the design woven right through, a design that may be a tiger, a hunt club scene, pheasants, a fisherman or who have you.

Karistan also makes Oriental reproductions, from 2 x 4' up to 11½ by 20, or ball and stair runners to match. The firm's "Tiempo Colonial" is Colonial, but with different colonists in mind: the Spanish. These rugs use Spanish tile colors, and have a deep fringe not usually found in domestic rugs.

Rina Galleries has area rugs from Mexico, $12 to $40. These are rich, bright and cheerful, featuring bright red and grey, or tones of grey with white and black, with a deep tassel of fringe all around. One giant rug is a dazzler of green, red and gold stripes.

Oriental are in full production at Farkouh where you may buy a little something to place in front of a chair, or a masterful thing to cover a whole drawing room. Begin, says Mr. Farkouh with a

by

Kammler Buick-Pontiac Co.

FAVORITE PHOTOGRAPHS

aptly describes this truly remarkable collection of the top choices of all of the 38 photographers of LIFE. For the first time in LIFE's nearly 25 years, all the members of LIFE's far-flung photographic staff were recently brought together in New York. At that time each photographer was asked to select the one personal favorite of all the thousands of pictures that he had taken for the magazine.

This exhibit is the result of that request.

Through studying the unusual selections you will, perhaps, gain some insight into the photographers themselves. You will certainly have pause to wonder why each considers his choice as a personal favorite over all others. The fluid faces of humanity . . . the mighty inventions of mankind . . . the joys of living . . . the romance of nature . . . the patterns of scientific achievement. Apart from the personal record, all of these truly unique photographs have been selected, at one time or another, for the pages of LIFE. That fact, in itself, bears strong testimony to the significance of the subject and the accomplishments of the photographer.

This exhibit will be in our showroom during the Holiday Season from December 15.

We do hope you will bring your entire family and we look forward to personally exchanging good wishes of the season.

Cory Kammler, pres.

is issued periodically. Dr. Mayer said.

He also said that the state will determine whether or not local boards of health should be told of any particular emergency.

Replying to a letter from the Township Board of Health, the Princeton Water Company has assured the board that it is willing to advise the police and acting health officer "immediately" when any problems arise.

In regard to the problem of legal powers, Dr. Mayer said that municipal boards of health might be more disturbed if, as laymen, they found they had to perform certain technical duties for which they were not trained.

In the who-was-first debate on notifying the state of Princeton's water problem, Dr. Mayer said that both the Township Board of Health and the Water Company called the state on the same day.

HURT IN ACCIDENT

Head-on Collision. Frederick Coleman, 23, The Great Road, sustained chest injuries in a head-on collision Monday on Princeton Pike.

Mr. Coleman collided at 9 a.m. with a pick-up truck driven by Erich A. Strohecker, 28, of Philadelphia. The Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad took Mr. Coleman to Princeton Hospital where his injuries were diagnosed as a fractured sternum, fractured ribs and possible concussion. He also suffered severe lacerations of the hand.

Township police gave Mr. Strohecker a summons for careless driving. He was released on $50 bail and will appear next Wednesday before Township Magistrate James Hill.

DRIVE BEGINS

For Sacred Heart. A fund drive, "Project: Princeton," was announced and fund drive chairmen were named at a meeting of parents interested in the Country Day School of the Sacred Heart.

Russell O'Brien will serve as fund drive chairman. Norbert A. Considine and James Harford will be vice-chairmen. Mrs. John P. Murray, Jr., will be treasurer and Mrs. J. Robert McNeil, secretary.

James E. Burke will be Special Gifts Committee Chairman. He announced that contributions may be sent to Country Day School of the Sacred Heart, 23 Palmer Square West.

Meanwhile, the Township Planning Board heard on Monday night the preliminary subdivision plans for a package of three properties involved in the school's Great Road site, and withheld approval on all three.

The plans are for 26 lots on the school property, formerly owned by Lady Catherine Monck, three lots on property owned by Richard Stillwell and nine owned by Herman Rehfeldt and Harry F. Fesmier. The properties adjoin.

The package was not approved by the Planning Board because it did not show city sewer plans and because the Rehfeldt plan and some lots at the extreme end of the school subdivision have had no percolation tests or soil logs made.

The question is: should percolation tests and soil logs be required at all on preliminary plans? The matter will be discussed between members of the Board of Health and Gordon Griffin, Township attorney. The Planning Board will not act in the matter without the concurrence of the Board of Health.

The properties are bisected by a road, formerly called Ascot Drive, but now known as Stuart Road, which will link The Great Road and Cherry Hill, probably within the next three years.

The Sacred Heart has agreed to pay for the road as it goes through the Rehfeldt and Fesmier property, and accept reimbursement as Mr. Rehfeldt and Mr. Fesmier sell the lots in their subdivision.

STUDENTS ARRESTED

Following Dormitory Thefts. Five Upsala College freshmen were arrested Saturday evening by State Police and charged with having taken valuables worth about $1,000 from the dormitory rooms of Princeton University students.

The five were arrested in a car on Route 1. They were driving back to Upsala in East Orange and police reported that some of the stolen items were found in the car. They were held overnight by Princeton. —Continued on Page 12

Music Review "Uncalled For."
To the Editor of Town Topics:

From criticisms I have heard from persons who read your music critic's degrading and uncalled for account of Miss Sutherland's concert, you have probably been swamped with protests, providing one tenth of them expressed themselves by writing to you.

It has been my observation over the period of the past few years that the critiques have been particularly harsh and cutting, especially in the case of music by some of the traditional old masters . . .

ROSLYN E. MAYERS
47 Balsam Lane

Editor's Note:

TOWN TOPICS received two letters, half a dozen telephone calls commenting on the review of Miss Sutherland's concert.

Ambulance Unit Thanked

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Enclosed is a copy of a letter which my wife and I sent to the Lawrenceville emergency squad. We are sending a copy to you at the request of the emergency squad.

It is our personal hope that you will publish it as a notice to other newcomers in the community that such a service exists, as a reminder to other residents that this volunteer service is available, and as a word of appreciation to those volunteers who give so much to the rest of us when we desperately need help in emergency situations.

S. KENNETH HOWARD
38 Luman Road
Trenton, N. J.

"Dear Sirs:

"We are writing you to thank you so very much for the fine work your ambulance crew did to make a distraught mother and father feel better. Our son Mark was taken with a convulsion early Thanksgiving morning and had an extremely high temperature. We were not only bewildered and upset by this quite unexpected turn in his apparent good health, but being new residents in Lawrenceville, we had no idea of how to get to the hospital, or just what to do.

"Your crew not only helped make Mark comfortable, but they made his parents feel he was in competent hands and that everything would be fine. The psychological as well as the actual aid they gave all three of us could not have been better.

"Mark is still quite sick as we write this letter, but he is in good hands, and we thank God we had you to help us in this emergency situation. We shall never forget what you have done for us. Thank you from the bottom of our hearts."

ton Borough Police on a charge of larceny and reportedly confessed Sunday afternoon to having ransacked rooms in four Princeton dormitories.

A Princeton freshman, Michael A. Pane, saw the five leave Little Hall with what he suspected to be stolen goods. Mr. Pane noted the license number of their car and then notified the office of the University proctors. The proctors contacted state police and the five were picked up about 25 minutes later near New Brunswick.

Borough Police Chief Peter J. McCrohan said the stolen items included radios, cash, pens, rings, clothing, whiskey and watches. He said that their total value is "at least $1,000." None of the five students has ever been in serious trouble before, McCrohan added.

SHRIVER FINED $50

Loses License for 6 Months. James Shriver, III, 34, of 635 Snowden Lane, was fined a total of $50 for three traffic violations and had his driver's license revoked for six months by Township Magistrate James S. Hill.

Mr. Shriver was fined $25 on a charge of careless driving and $15 and $10 on separate charges of having neither driver's license nor registration in his possession. He pleaded guilty to all three.

Norm. - Fowler, Jr., 23, of 41 Moran Avenue, was fined $25 and has his driver's license revoked for 60 days after pleading not guilty to a charge of speeding.

William B. Putney, 17, of 41 Arretton Road, was fined $20 after pleading not guilty to a charge of careless driving. Orville Banks, 48, of 146 John Street, was fined $10 after pleading guilty to a charge of parking so as to block a public driveway.

LOVETT TO SPEAK

YES, CHILDREN, THERE IS A SANTA CLAUS BUT HE WILL VISIT CHOON Ok AND COSTAKIS IN THEIR HOMES

To all the little children who phoned us about the foster children, especially the little girl who wanted to know when she would arrive, so she could be ready:

Choon Ok and Costakis live far across the world with their own mommies and daddies. The way you help them, through us, is that part of the money your families spend on insurance makes it possible for us to see that they get food, clothes, medicine and money, which they sorely need.

Think of it this way—instead of our sending you a present, we send one in your name to them. Understand? We hope so—and thanks to all of you for your interest.

Mrs. Susan Langston and Mrs. Marjorie Tindall.
Mrs. D. O. Johnson is president of the Board of the Home-makers Service and Mrs. Lawrence Stratton is the director. During October and November, a record number of Princeton families were helped during family emergencies.

BANK CREATES NEW POST
To Assist President, Princeton Bank and Trust Company has created a new post, Assistant to the President, and has appointed William R. Cosby to fill the new position.
Mr. Cosby has resigned his position as vice-president in charge of the branch administration division of the Provident Tradesmen Bank and Trust, Philadelphia, in order to accept the appointment. He will assume his new duties in January.

The expansion of the bank's executive staff is an outgrowth of the bank's continuing growth, according to George R. Cook, III, president.

Mr. Cosby, a graduate of Princeton with the class of 1934, has been in banking for 27 years. He and his wife and son have purchased a home at 230 Brookstone Drive and will move there early next spring.

TO SING FOR CLUB

In Christmas Program
"Christmas Worldwide" is the title of a program to be given before the Woman's Club of Princeton by Marie Shepherd, lyric soprano, at a meeting to be held next Thursday at 1 p.m. at the Shrine Club.

Hostesses for the social hour will be Mrs. John F. Scott, Mrs. Arthur Beddoe, Mrs. John M. Brown, Mrs. John L. Childs, Mrs. Clement V. Conole, Mrs. F. William DeBree, Mrs. Arthur T. Fenton and Mrs. William A. French.

Jaycees Helping Santa

The Princeton Junior Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a "Letters to Santa" project for children at the New Jersey Neuro-Psychiatric Institute, Skillman.

The Jaycees receive letters to Santa from the children telling what they want for Christmas. The Jaycees then try to fulfill the children's requests as accurately as possible.

Gifts will be furnished by Jaycees and other members of the community. Those interested in helping with the project have been asked to contact Robert Blazer, TU 2-8727. Gifts and letters will be on display at the Home Furnishings Shop, 41 Witherspoon Street, before December 24.

Also Mrs. Frederick P. Henderson, Mrs. Albert F. Horner, Mrs. R. Kenyon Kilbon, Mrs. Gerald Lannholm, Mrs. William W. Marv, Mrs. Richard McClelland, Mrs. James S. Norris, Mrs. William R. Powers, Mrs. Frank C. Rogers, Mrs. John P. Smith, Mrs. George A. Swazey, Mrs. Marcel Vogt, Mrs. Albert Westfeld and Mrs. Milton S. Winters.

NEW DIRECTORS NAMED

For Young Republicans, Miss Allison Munn and H. Morgan Holman Jr. have been elected to the board of directors of the Young Republicans of Princeton. They are secretary and program chairman respectively.

Mrs. MacDonald Mathey is chairman of the organization. The other officers are Roger Shulz, vice-chairman; Miss Sandra Jefferson, membership; William Wallace, treasurer; and James E. Ward, assistant treasurer.

Dear TRAVELEX,
Last minute Christmas shopping seems to be in full swing. The snow over the weekend gave the children a real kick—as if they weren't already too excited over the coming of Santa Claus.
If you, too, have difficulty getting something just right for everyone, the Travelex Gift Certificate can be a real plus for you. Not only can you have a wonderful gift under the tree, but you can also get your plans for a late winter, spring, or summer vacation started now. The Travelex Gift Certificate in any amount serves as a reminder that there's "money in the bank" to get started with your vacation plans.
Planning ahead can be useful in two ways — go where you want and the way you want. This is much more satisfactory than last minute arrangements which can be more expensive too!
That's all for now, see you shopping!

Rain and snow last week-end, daylong rain Tuesday, it wasn't the best kind of weather for touring the shops. But it was scheduled to improve.

Colder, to put a nip in the air. Clearer, to make life pleasanter. Temperature around normal through Sunday, with the week's rainfall reportedly completed.

schools will give their annual candlelight service next Wednesday at 4:30. Johann Viets' ranc's "Lo, I Bring Tidings" will be sung in the Christmas cantata. It was edited and translated from the German by Miss Frances A. Kleeman, a former teacher at Miss Fine's.

NEW MEMBERS SOUGHT
By West Windsor Democrats. Plans for a forthcoming membership drive were formed at the meeting of the West Windsor Democratic Club.

Bruce Rosenblum, John Greene and Francis Ward were appointed by president Robert Frandsen to implement the drive for members. Mrs. Nancy Wanzel was appointed to make arrangements for a dinner-dance to be held early next year.

4-H GIRLS TO BE CITED
By Agricultural Society. Three members of 4-H Clubs in the Princeton area will be given prizes this Thursday by the Princeton Agricultural Society at the Peacock Inn.

The Society is one of the oldest agricultural organizations in the state, and selects several 4-H Club members each year for leadership honors.

The first prize, a $25 savings bond, will be given to Miss Beverly Bahrenburg of Belle Mead. Miss Linda Heal of Trenton and Miss Elaine Bibel of Jamesburg will be presented with $10 and $5 respectively as second and third prize winners.

Percy Van Zandt of Blawenburg, president of the society, will make the awards.

ACTIVITIES REPORTED
By Girl Scout Troops. Once a month, in lieu of their regular meeting, Girl Scout Troop 50, composed of Plainsboro girls under the leadership of Mrs. Francis O'Brien, go to Sunnyfield Home in Cranbury. There they visit with the residents, playing games, singing hymns and reading the Bible. Troop members include Carol Rakely, Connie Sohl, Sheryl

It's New To Us

Nundah rug from India $2.95 to $9.95.

Home Furnishings on Witherspoon Street, like the sporting life, too. A clipper in full sail, leopard and tiger skins, a leaping sailfish, a jumping or resting horse—what's here for you?

For the children, Home Furnishings has Huckleberry Hound and all the gang in big rugs, or in those bath mat size rugs children need in kindergarten when they lie down for a nap.

Both Home Furnishings and Nassau Interiors have a great big clown and balloon rug on a cream ground—gayest thing in town.

CANDLE OR LIGHT?

"Why Not Both?" Schwartz Furniture is partial to the dignified Stiffel lamp and so are Ivy Manor and the Rug Mart.

Schwartz has a floor lamp with a brass tray around the middle, a candle-like shaft and a drum shade. Oiled wood and antiqued brass combine in an "old" lamp which has a key to turn up the wick.

A graceful tilt's table lamp has a square wooden tray edged with black, and a black and gold metal base, but you may also have pottery lamps from Stiffel, like the creamy one in hourglass shape with brass base and "key" to turn up the wick. Or the jade pottery with its Greek key shade.

Ivy has a pair of Stiffel lamps like slim white and gold urns, and Rug Mart has a heavy brass-based lamp with a tweedy shade. In floor lamps, Rug Mart likes the Stiffel with the switch in the shaft.

Pull it up or down and the light goes on or off.

At the Silver Shop, they're showing a pair of lamps in black metal with bronze edging and pendant crystals that catch the light. At Kung Ping, they like the pieced paper lanterns to hang over a bare bulb, or the square lamp that stands above a table on stilts, displaying a bird and some branches through the light.

At Johnson Electric on Tulane Street, Mr. Johnson likes the ship's lamp with a sailing shade, and the hobnail milk glass boudoir lamps. One hand some traditional lamp in this shop has a bronze base, square, and four "candles" around a center chimney. The square shade is in a cheerful, small Provincial print. The lamp is over two feet high, but there is a similar one that is smaller.

Desk or Floor? Lightolier, at Nassau Interiors, has a tall, thin, desk lamp made like a stripped down candlestick. It's based on an oblong of walnut, with a tall brass shaft rising from it to a black cone shade. A "candle" provides light.

Lightolier also has an antique brass table lamp with chimney and opaque glass shade. The lamp you'll look at twice at Nassau Interiors—you'll have to, to get it all in—is four feet tall with a 20-inch tall shade and a turquoise pottery base that must hold 25 gallons.

On a smaller scale, the shop has an "Early American" (well, earlier than now, anyway) lamp with a Model-T Ford base.

Want some accessories? Just a bauble to brighten the Christmas Savings Club check? Begin, why not, with Princeton Gift's antique lion by Antonio Canova (18th century), or the shop's cast iron horses

Hey! I Know Her!

Books by Princeton authors are just as much fun for children as for adults. Many Princeton children have been in Moyness Smith's drama classes, and all of them will want "Plays and How to Put them On," Mrs. Smith's new book. At Male's Bookshop, Nassau and Charlton, and University Store.

Dorothy Berliner Commings has "All About the Symphonies and What it Plays" and Elizabeth H. Johnson has "Almost Cousins," which is about bats.

William McCleery, the single exception to the "her" of our headline, offers "Wolf Story," a re-issue of a favorite in the four-to-even age group.

on wooden base plaques. Hang 'em on your wall, in black and white.

Viking has a white, European-style telephone which can really be used, once hooked up. They also have some white architectural pottery (that's big talk for a great BIG flower pot) in various shapes. Urns, planters, tall glazed cylinders for branches, and the like. The cylinder we saw was 18" high by 13 across, $30.

Cigarettes and cigars may be passed around after dinner on a tray, 16" long, from The Silver Shop. It has seven compartments of varying size and shape, and a lighter in the middle. The same shop also has a charming old baby chair for old babies. It is faded Hitchcock in style, with a mellow patina and a solid little cane seat.

Watching: Birds or Children. The past is also evoked by a hickory coat-rack at Home Furnishings. It has 7 antlers

(not really, but you know... for coats and hats and a pan and fork for umbrellas. $20. How can you say "No"?)

In front of it, why not put University Store's orange sheepskin with a black "P" sewn into the middle?)

If you are given to watching birds, you might as well feed them in return. Howe Nurseries has feeders in redwood. Obal's Garden Market has them for sill, window or tree, with squirrel baffles, acorn birdseed, sunflower seed and so on.

Money Tree's chair for a child was made in Spain of dark and sombre wood. It is designed with a single upright board for a back and a "T" seat. Uncompromising, but comfortable, if you are small.

Hang it All: it's Christmas!

Decking the hall with boughs of holly is second only to opening the stocking Christmas morning in the catalogue of good things at Christmas time. Here's the tinsel—let's begin:

Viking Furniture. A 44-inch spiral of slender chrome outlined with 33 white, dripless candles. Hang it by an invisible thread from the ceiling, and the candles will suspend in the dark, making a spiral of light.

Money Tree. Ten-inch-high creech figures, graceful, exquisite and serene, in Mexican paper sculpture, dark grey with golden-bronze highlights. Madonna, Magi and Shepherd, five for $50.

Home Furnishings. Hand-made globes, from a walnut size to a large melon, fashioned from white styrofoam trimmed with longitudinal velvet-ribbon in gold, red, emerald, then decorated richly and variously with seed pearls, caps of solid golden sequins, crystals and teardrop pearls. From $1.10 to $24.

Howe Nurseries. Wreaths made of cones, seed pods and berries, all in their natural state; the ingredients to make such a wreath yourself if you want to.

Cummins Shop. A 15-inch gold and silver tree with leaves, berries, flowers, on a brushed gold stand, $17.50. Matching candle-base wreaths, $5.

Country Mouse. Tree lights that are roses, snowflakes, stars, fruit and even tiny candy canes. Sealed, for use indoors or out, and versatile enough for patio use next summer. (Except the candy canes.)

It's New To Us

Two small chests to go on chests, stand out in this shop. One is a Faux Bois adapted from 18th century designs, the other is stucco, dark, Japanese wood. Both are jewel cases. The Japanese one, particularly noteworthy, has black metal corners, intriguing little drawers and velvet trays, and a $66.50 price tag.

Five Money Tree chimes hang with a circle in the middle, the circle barely missing the chimes, so that the slightest touch brings a gentle chime. Not nearly so gentle is a full-skirted brass bell ($7.95) with a clang you can hear from here.

Branding irons are to use as candlesticks, Money Tree warns. They are real ones, from Mexico, with hollow handles you use for the candle.

Crystal, or Blown, Princeton Decorating caters to collectors with European crystal, antiques fashioned into boxes, vases and tumblers. Two vases for long-stemmed violets have delicate tracings in gold, and a heavy gold tumbler is covered with gold vine leaves.

One glass is pale green with a scene of a fisherman reeling in a catch against a whole landscape of color. An "Amulet" goblet is crystal with gold. There are also many pieces in the pink amber of Baccarat.

Blenko is the contemporary glass-blower for Gene Seal, where you'll find, displayed against the sun of a south window, some pieces in royal, turquoise or sea green. These are quieter in form than the usual Blenko blown into cylinders, pinch-bottles, beakers or tall pitchers, chosen with an eye to flower arrangement rather than baroque display.

Other containers in the shop are Japanese or Swedish, quiet or exuberant. Egyptian copper is here, too, and some German and Dutch floral display items.

And while we're here... we told you elsewhere about a coffee tree. Gene Seal goes on from there to offer some delightfully exotic house plants as gifts for people who may not even collect house plants. (We have an aphid that collects African violets.)

An Australian silk oak is like a fern, and the holly fern is like holly. The Queensland umbrella tree has eight leaves emerging from a single center. Hence the umbrella. A Chinese Aralia looks like a dwarf Japanese maple, and another Aralia is so exotic it doesn't even have a common name. How's that for snobbery?

You can also buy here a Croton, which has leaves of different colors, all on the same plant, and a Norfolk Island pine that is not a pine at all.

Rina has tall cylinders of Mexican glass blown from old soda-pop bottles. Really, they really were. They come in cracked or plain, (depending on the degree of fizz in the pop?)

From Abroad. This shop also has copper ashtrays from Israel with stone mosaics inlaid into the center. One is shaped like a big comma, another is a curving triangle.

Silver Shop brings over a pair of Portuguese fruit baskets, square-based with gold bands, ten inches high; and Home Furnishings has modern Spanish pottery with bas-relief figures emerging partially from a dark background. Stacy, the shop in the Lawrence Shopping Center, offers a desk set in light wood with coins embedded in the wood. A 10-inch ashtray in greens and blues has an Aztec calendar wheel and a full two-inch depth (that's a lot of ashes.) Gold and black and white enamel decorate another cigarette set with lighter, box and at, oval urns.

SERVICE, PLEASE

Table and Kitchen. One of the most remarkable collections in town this season is the new Dansk line at Gourmet. Rare woods from Africa and South America have been used for a group of pieces, each one fashioned around the qualities of the particular wood.

Palisander wood is long and narrowly planked, so a long. —Continued on Page 22 butterfly-shaped canape tray results. Coca Bola, brilliant and orange, forms a low, round salad bowl and a flat serving set. Wenge wood makes a very deep bowl like a broad-brimmed hat. Attached are two round, stubby salad servers—and we mean "attached."

These are individual, "limited edition" pieces, each one signed like an etching and numbered. An investment, each one, but worthy of every penny.

Gourmet's Hot-n-Cold Chilli is an ice-pitcher which can double as a coffee carafe, if you can believe it. A metal tube can be filled with water, frozen, and then put inside to chill the liquid. Without it, the pitcher can be put right over a flame.

Or Warm, Silver Shop has a double warmer with oblong pyrex inserts in a silver plated frame. Pineapple knobs on top

WE DANES—AND YOU

IT IS NOT unusual for ladies to stand up when they are introduced either to ladies or gentlemen. It is not unknown, however, for Danish men to continue to sit happily on their chairs when a lady comes into the room. This should not be set down hastily to mere rudeness. The man may have got hold of a good chair and be afraid of losing it to someone else. He may even be tired, or he may not know any better. Either of which will be seen that the Danes are not particularly polite or formal—although, kind hearts being more than coronets, it may perhaps be mentioned that they will cheerfully rush all over town to do something for a visitor or drive him 20 miles into the country if he wants to see a memorial or an inn.

It is customary to bring a few flowers with you on being invited to a Danish home for the first time. An alternative is to send them beforehand with a card. It may be comforting to know that there is no compulsion about asking your host and hostess back within a week.

One need have no scruples about staying too long when asked out to dinner or for the evening. In many homes the host and hostess do not think the party has been a success if the guests leave before midnight or just after. This may have something to do with calling the evening meal "Mid-dag."

It is always wise to bear in mind that the Danes often have an ironical way of expressing themselves. They say it's "wonderful weather" when it's pouring with rain; they hint delicately that it's "a trifle chilly" when it's stifling hot. They are also quite capable of being positively rude about each other's manners or appearance, and it is not an uncommon thing for them to tell their hosts with glee that the food is terrible. This kind of thing is not recommended in our guests—at any rate not until they are absolutely familiar with its use.

of the lids, and handles to serve you with.

For coffee Christmas night, use a silver set made in India from an old English design. The three pieces are small, and the creamer has an unexpected lid. The design, you see, came from India where one needed a lid to keep the flies out of the cream.

Six demi-tasses have Lenox liners and filigree silver holders. A delightful little hot might hold four demi-cups. It's from 1904, and has matching sugar, creamer and beaded tray.

Lacy sterling silver has been used for a round trivet with a felt bottom ($15), which the Silver Shop believes has universal usefulness.

Money Tree's trivet is 19-inches, brass, a pair of Chinese characters that probably mean "Keep the heat off." ($19.95)

At the Cummins Shop we found a real sizzler. It's a brushed aluminum lining, removable, for a dark walnut carving board. Use the lining separately for hot hors d'oeuvres or use it in the walnut board for a steak. Some versions have a well-and-tree in the board. Three sizes, $8.95, $10.95, $14.95.

A round mahogany salad bowl, burnished to a fine sheen, is lighter inside, darker outside, $10.95 or $7.95, with individual bowls to go with, and servers at $2 a pair.

Black and Hot. Kung Ping sits down before the fire with coffee in black lacquer demi-tasses lined with gold. Six for $15. Tray matches.

A heavy papier-mache tray in this shop has an all-over pattern of gold leaves and pink roses ($125) and a bigger dark wood tray has an inlaid mother-of-pearl peach tree. One laminated tray is like basketweave.

We were fascinated by a set of straight white porcelain coffee cups with dark wooden saucers. Contrast is striking.

In the bowl department, we found Money Tree's long, narrow, elongated, to be candid, Italian bowls, shallow, pod-like, each one different because of the form of the wood and the hand-carving. Similar bowls are brushed brass.

Bowls at Princeton Gift are apt to be Revere style, made of pewter in delectable two-inch, or in 5, 7 and 9 inch sizes.

LaVake passes around the Gorbham silver tray, vegetable dish and gray boat, lit by a three-light Gorbham candelabra 15 inches high, $130 a pair. Shorter and less obtrusive ones are $69.50.

For people with mantles, LaVake offers an eight-day ship's clock for $121, or the Lecoulre "Almos" for $137.50.

Into the Fire. For a kitchen, consider Gourmet's Swedish Rorsrand canisters in white pottery with teak lids and deep blue brush design. Legends, in Swedish, say "Sill i Dill," "Mors Godaste Sylt" and "Mjol." We'll tantalize you by leaving out the translation.

Money Tree has hand-made cutlery from an Ohio craftsman. It is made of finest steel, slightly tempered with chrome, and honed to the sharpness of a Saracen blade. Paring knife, $2.50; 9-inch slicing knife, $5.95; cleaver, $8. Two forks in walnut case, $4.55; knife in edge-grain maple cutting board, $7.50.

German stainless steel knives have a high carbon content which makes them easy to sharpen. Gourmet has them. Black plastic handles are formed inside the blade to make a continuous design, and they go into the dishwasher, even. Open stock, or in sets. There are 23 pieces carving sets, and 4-8 piece steak sets. Corning Ware, at Rorer's University Store and Urken's, has a new broil-and-serve, and also a new double boiler which can be used as two separate utensils.

Domlin's waffle iron, round at $14.95 or long (with sandwich toaster) at $17.95, will take care of lots of Sunday night suppers. Urken's recommends the extra large Postoria waffle-iron that makes four three-inch-square waffles at once for $21.

Magic-Kote, at Urken's, cooks without butter, oil or fat and has a double coat of heavy-gauge aluminum. Wear-ever makes it at $4.99.

Best kitchen appliance we've seen all season is Farkouh's Bikini apron. Scarcely larger than a pot-holder (no puns, please), it consists of a sash and a ruffle and that is all. More sedate aprons at Farkouh's have kings, queens, aces and the like, and one has minute accordion pleats all around. We liked the magnetic potholder that says, "We're dining out, dear; I'll set the table in the backyard."

Thirsty? Try University Store's glazed blue teapot that pours out "tea for Two" or the brass-and-copper teapots at Country Mouse from England and Holland. The Dutch one is chubby white with blue design.

Still thirsty? Reach for something in Gourmet's wine rack, wood with brass fitting and a 12-bottle capacity. Same store has Thermo-Temp tumblers and old-fashioned with bright burp inside the insulation. Pitchers and ice-buckets match.

Rorer's Hardware has Thermo-Serv tumblers in gold and black, some plain, some with fish and wild-life emblems.

Cummins' ice-bucket is rattan-like plastic for $9.95, with brass banding. One other is wooden ($12) with brass bands (76 trombones . . .) and a third is buried, with brass trim, $15. Silver Shop's ice bucket is silver. Holds 2 quarts, and has lugs inside the lid by a rack. A double wine cooler by Sheffield is an unusual adornment for your sideboard. It is a pointed oval with two coasters, gracious and simple.

To Sip. Stacy's has giant (14-inch) goblets of frosted glass with red-brown bowls. Just for looking? Somewhat more functional are the purple smoke decanter and glasses.

Shades of rose and amber are overlaid in oblongs on a cocktail shaker, jigger, double old fashioned set. A veritable rack takes up less space than a horizontal one; this one has 6 old fashioned ranged up a tall shaker. Gold and black.

Bellows has a 12-inch bell, very skinny, that says "Martini time" on it. It has no handle. Is this significant?

Among the saki cups, Kung Ping has a collection of 6 four-inch-tall tumblers made of pottery with a warm rust top and a glazed blue bottom.

'TIS THE SEASON TO BE JOLLY: It used to be perhaps, but to many the crowds and the crass commercialism have vitiated the appeal of the Christmas season. Mrs. Ingrid Pyka (left) dislikes the Christmas shopping crowds; Mrs. Henry Harney (center) circumvents the problem by doing her shopping ahead of the crowd; while Miss Elizabeth Mercer, for her part, loves to join their ranks. (Staff Photo.)

Question of the Week

Question: Are you looking forward to the hustle and bustle of the Christmas season?
Where asked: Palmer Square.

Miss Lynn Coliner, Westminster Choir College, Junior: No, I'm certainly not. I think Christmas is not a time for such hurrying around. I feel a much emphasis is placed on the rush and the buying of presents and not enough on the true meaning of Christmas.

Theodore Sandquist, River Road, Belle Mead, salesman: Yes, I am, because Christmas has as a part of it—aside from the rushing around, a meaningful end in that we try to make people other than ourselves happy. The hustle and bustle is just something we all put up with. I do feel, however, some of the significance of the original meaning of Christmas is lost in that the proper recipient of gifts should be Christ Himself. But on the other hand, the happiness which we attempt to bring to our fellow men in the world is, perhaps, a gift to Christ.

Miss Sylvia Hale, 16 Stockton Street, domestic: Definitely, I love it! The atmosphere, the friendliness. I just love to go shopping in the stores crowded with people. I know some people hate it, but I just love it! Perhaps it is my British background.

Donald McNelis, Brian Avenue, Trenton, driver for Van Nostrand: No, I never look forward to hustle and bustle no matter when it happens.
Mrs. Barbara Hensler, 3 Palmer Square, housewife: No, I'm not because we're moving to New Rochelle two weeks before Christmas, we are going to spend Christmas week in Montreal, Canada, and I'm expecting a baby in the spring. So it is really going to be all hustle and bustle for me.

Donald Mitchell, Cranbury, student at Theological Seminary: No, because I think the excessive hustle and bustle destroys what is the true Christmas spirit which, I think, should be one of quiet thankfulness.

Mrs. Henry Harney, 8 Pelham Road, Kendall Park, assistant business manager for the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation: As a matter of fact, I did my Christmas shopping early this year so I could relax and enjoy the holidays. So I am looking forward to the Christmas season.

Miss Elizabeth Mercer, 34 Park Place, secretary: Definitely, I love the crowds and the shopping. I really do. Our family is all scattered, and this Christmas everyone will be together, so naturally I am looking forward to that.

Mrs. Ingrid Pyka, 129 Bayard Lane, secretary: Not especially. I prefer to do my shopping when there are just a few people around and when I don't have to wait forever to get what I want. Christmas will be a little sad for me this year, too, because it will be my first in Princeton and the first one away from my family.

Sloan Glenn, Green Valley Farm, Carter Road, chauffeur: I find it has become sort of a routine to me and I'm used to all the rushing about. I still have some grandchildren that I like to go out and buy Christmas presents for. They still believe in Santa Claus and I want to keep them believing as long as I can.

Miss Adele Rouge, 19 Library Place, housekeeper: No, I don't. I think it has become too commercial. Christmas should be a time for the children. I think the parents should use this time to tell them the real story of Christmas. And to teach them to give; not always to receive.

Miss Gillian Richardson, 44 Vandewater Avenue, member of Princeton University Computer Center: Not really. The trouble is that, being English, Christmas starts too early for me. I have to shop early to get presents home in time, so I think Christmas is too long. I think I'd enjoy it a lot more if it lasted only a weekend.

Mrs. Ruby Campbell, 103 Leigh Avenue, part-time domestic: No, I wish I could relax and not have to go through this. I feel that Christmas has become too commercialized and I think it is time we stop and recognize that Christmas is more than just giving gifts. People aren't happy anymore giving gifts because many of them don't have the money to buy them, yet they feel they have to give them. It puts them under a strain.

Charles Franklyn, Highway 27, retired: Yes, I look forward to the Christmas lights and decorations and to the spirit of Christmas.

Mrs. William G. Moulton, Heather Lane, consultant for ETS: No, I'm not! I hate commercialism at this time of the year. It is simply something to get people to buy a lot of things they don't necessarily want. People used to look forward to Christmas but I don't think the majority of them do anymore. Christmas has become incidental to the question of, "Oh, all right, what do you want for Christmas this year?"

Mrs. Michael Street, 16 Witherspoon Street, housewife: Oh, yes, I think it's the happiest time of the year, religiously and otherwise. And we like living in Princeton very much! This will be our first Christmas here and perhaps that makes a difference.

Mrs. Barbara Eisenbach, Blawenburg, part-time secretary for the First Presbyterian Church: Yes, it is a very exciting time of the year for me.

GARDEN CLUB TO MEET
Decorations Are Topic
Members of the Dogwood Garden Club will exhibit door decorations for Christmas at a meeting this Thursday.

The meeting is scheduled for 1:30 p.m. It will be held in the home of Mrs. Weldon E. Young, Autumn Hill.

MARRIED 40 YEARS
Camevaletos to Celebrate
Mr. and Mrs. Angelo S. Carnevale of the Great Road will mark their 40th wedding anniversary Sunday with their four children, Nicholas, Kevin, David and Michael, at the Blauenburg Hotel, 1000 E. 10th St., Philadelphia.

Mr. Carnevale came to Princeton 50 years ago from Pettoranello, Italy, and after service with the A.E.F. in World War I, returned here with his wife, Christine. He has been employed by Mrs. H. R. Benson of the Great Road for the last 40 years.

EMPLOYEES HONORED
For 25 Years at RCA
For 25 years at RCA, RCA has honored 10 employees who have completed 25 years of service to the company by presenting them with watches and scrolls. The awards were made at a dinner attended by some 250 of the company's employees and their wives. Honored were: Frederick H. Corrigan, Francis J. Drake, Jr., John S. Donal, Jr., Helen Flynn, Gordon L. Fredendall, Forrest E. Gresswold, Edmund A. Laport, George W. Leck, John E. Ruedy and Chandler Wentworth.

SECRETARIES TO MEET
For Xmas Party, The Mercer County Educational Secretaries Association will meet on Thursday at 8 p.m. in Johnson Park School. Members have been asked to bring Christmas stockings for the Veteran's Hospital.

LEADER SOUGHT
For Troop 77, Boy Scout Troop 77 is seeking a scoutmaster. The position of scoutmaster will be a part-time position, as soon as possible.

Piping Hot. General Electric, that fine old campaigner, offers an automatic toaster which bakes or toasts for $34.95. University Store and Johnson Electric on Tulane.

We took a shine to Dominion's portable automatic oven at Johnson Electric. Pull out the drawer and it's a broiler. Put a grill on it, and you've got a grill. Automatic timer, too. Weighs only 17 pounds, minus the steaks.

Dormeyer's knife-sharpener at Johnson will take care of all those knives we've described, and the Toastermaster mixer, Waring blender and can-opener will all perform nobly, provided you plug them in.

For your table, a splendid gift would be one of Farkouh's oval or round cloths in House and Garden colors. They are up to five yards in length, in 24 colors including white. Or, gandy or linen cloths are available, too, and some prints, all in the oval and round shapes that are so much in demand.

For buffet service, Farkouh has matching card-table covers, organdy, or linen with fine embroidery.

Emstitched Irish linen napkins, those old stand-bys, are $12.50 a dozen for 18-inch square, but they come in tea or luncheon size, too, and big 24-inchers for MEN. Bridge-cocktail napkins, six

Wired for Giving—from Daddy

Men love to give electrical things at Christmas time. They have a secret hope that something will go wrong so they can tinker, and even if everything goes smoothly, it's still fun to watch the wheels go round.

Kitchen World. The grandmothers of them all: a Nucleon Built-in food center with six appliances: meat grinder, blender, sharpener, mixer, and juicer. No guilotine. The sockets are built into the counter, flush, so that there are no wires to jumble into the batter.

Rorer's Hardware. GE's slicing machine, $12 or $17.95. The big one can handle a whole side of beef.

Van Zandt. An electric room, $29.95. Wait'll Hal-o-ver!

Urken. Ice-o-Mat, for tall or table, to crush ice, for drinkers who prefer on-the-pebbles to on-the-rocks. Tiger Auto. Flashlights without batteries to recharge in car or at home. Flak, pocket size is $5.95, bigger, beamed, super-200 is $9.95, each with adapter to plug into car lighter or home outlet.

Johnson Electric and University Store. Dominion's hair-dryer in a small suitcase, with a mirror which hides the drying cap, side drawers for pins, space for drying nails and a speed dial.

Princeton Gourmet. Hot-tray table, brass framed with walnut construction, on wheels, $99.50.

Radio and Hobby. Emerson radio, exclusive here, in portable size, and wonderful used TV sets to keep those teen-agers quiet.

for $3.95, are face cards—joker, anyone? Other fine linen napkins are for cocktails only: there is the cock himself, one foot in the glass.

To Match. Fallant and Cohn cloths are the word at Clayton's, where you can find towels to match. These cloths are Belgian linen in three sizes. Grapevine prints in gold-brown or pink-purple, come in cloths, towels, toaster covers, mixer covers and aprons.

University Store and Farkouh have a natural linen fringed cocktail napkins with the orange Princeton seal in the middle.

Moving upstairs, we find Home Decor's nursery hamper set in oyster white with pink and blue insertion ribbon on hamper, basket and child's chair.

A similar set is white metal with a real clown doll on the side of half-hamper, tissue box and basket.

For a formal family, even where hamper are concerned, Decor has a gold metal set with a swag looped across each piece. Another group is white fluted plastic with pink-and-green embroidered roses glued on the surface. This group consists of a 6-hpstick caddy, tissue box, soapdish and basket. A bright and cheerful set.

Since all is vanity, why not buy a Roman bench of brass with white, pink or lilac cushion (they, regal purple) or a brass stool with a very low back and pastel cushion?

For holiday house-guests (and after) buy a brass towel rack stand with shelf underneath for magazines or extra towels. A towel pole might serve your purpose even better. They start at $7.98.

High and Dry. On the rack you might lay the Cannon and Fieldcrest towel sets at Home Decor. Expected by Christmas are Martex fingertips in terry which are said to be quite special.

Farkouh has Calloway's yarn-dyed towels in 18 colors—one of which certainly ought to please some.

Across the hall, we find a bed rest at Home Decor in corduroy or antique satin, some with arms and pockets, some designed as triangular pillows.

For a splendid $85, you may have—or your daughter may have—an embroidered quilted daron bedspread in white with rose blooms every 12 inches, a full skirt and a floor-length dust skirt. A gold-embroidered white spread from the same source, would satisfy a more sophisticated taste.

Fine eyelet embroidery edges a sheet-pillow case set. Embroidered cases start at $2.98.

Farkouh has Pepperell and Wamsutta blankets, and Colonial spreads or tailored modern ones.

At Stone's Linen Shop, there are 3-piece vanity sets (soap dish, powder-puff box, and a cup on a tray) made of plastic that looks for all the world like china. The pieces can be hand-decorated to your order, if you wish.

Tissue holders, pin-boxes, waste-baskets and so on, are also in the Stone set.

Clayton's has hand-embroidered Madiera pillow-cases in white, or with pink scallops and pink flowers bouquets.

For a child's room, Stone suggests baby quilts with music box pillows (maybe you could get a music box that will teach Spanish into baby's pillowcase while he's being lulled to sleep.) A white quilt has Goldilocks and You-Know-Who, and a red and white checked quilt has an applique of its own, and a round pillow which you can wind up so that it will play Brahms' Lullaby.

Clayton has a fluffy rug for a child: Snow Man, Teddy, Clown and a prize Owl in white with grey vest; and wise old eyes in deep purple.

Home Decor's rugs for the young are acrilan or cotton shaped like a mouse (or is he a cat?), a clown, a chick, and even like a whole bear-skin, $9.98 and $10.98.

Report from THE MAYOR

It Can Be Done. It is a well-deserved honor which has come to Thomas Hihishi and the Princeton High School Choir in the form of an invitation to sing at an important music festival in the State of Washington next summer. Naturally, the cost will be high; but the community can surely find the way to meet it. Encouraging reports have been received concerning initial response to requests for voluntary contributions. Other suggestions have been made: a benefit concert, continued solicitation in the community, aid from service organizations in the area, and possibly the use of some tax funds for part of the expenses.

The choir's performance in Washington will be an honor for Princeton and an unforgettable experience for the youngsters who participate. We must all make some effort to see that the invitation can be accepted.

The Marquand Report. Mrs. Harold Hochschild has forwarded to the Mayor the report of the Marquand Park Advisory Committee and the recommendations for 1962. The report lists a number of donations from the Foundation and from other private sources in the form of new plantings for this important community resource.

The recommendations include a budget item for pruning, some important maintenance needs, the recurring question of providing some toilet facilities in the park, a possible new arrangement of playground equipment for the smallest children, and the possibility of providing some additional benches. Mayor and Council and the staff of the engineering department will want to give careful consideration to these suggestions. The community will also want to express its gratitude to the Advisory Committee for its continuing helpfulness.

Bicycle Safety. Mayor and Council have received copies of the report of the special subcommittee on child safety of the Borough's traffic safety committee. Eight major recommendations include proposals for bicycle licensing, ordinance changes concerning bicycle routes, creation of special bicycle paths, and other ideas which the committee hopes will add to the safety of youngsters, particularly those traveling to and from the various schools by bicycle.

Friday Open House. The regular weekly "Tell it to the Mayor" sessions will be held on Friday, December 13, and Friday, December 22, from 7 to 10 p.m. at Borough Hall. No appointment is ever necessary for these informal meetings. A special apology is due to those who were inconvenienced last Friday when the Mayor was late in arriving at Borough Hall after taping a television program in New York City. On Saturday, Princeton was happy to be host to the state-wide meeting of the New Jersey Civil War Centennial Commission.

LAST AND FINAL NOTICE

This notice is to remind residents of the community who are interested in becoming members of the Princeton Hospital Corporation that the By-Laws of Princeton Hospital require that applications for membership be received at the hospital no later than December 31, 1961, if they wish to be able to vote at the Annual Meeting of the Corporation to be held on February 26, 1962. This is in accordance with the following excerpts from the By-Laws:

"1. The annual payment by any person of not less than $5.00 directly to the Princeton Hospital Membership Fund during the calendar year preceding the annual election, shall entitle such person to make nominations for the office of Trustee, to one vote for each vacancy in the Board of Trustees which may be filled at any annual meeting and upon any amendment by these By-Laws."

"2. The payment by any person of $100.00 or more directly to the Princeton Hospital Membership Fund shall entitle such person to life membership in the corporation and to all the other privileges of voting membership without further annual payment."

This notice is not a solicitation, but is published to inform the community of qualifications for voting membership in the Corporation

By order of the Board of Trustees of Princeton Hospital

TIME IS FLEETING

But Art is Long. Curling up at last with a good print, we turn to the book and art and music department.

Gallery 100 lives up to its name by providing original art for under $100. Look at Prestopino's black and white Caribbean woman and the gaudy-tailed bird in her arms. Examine closely the stamped wood engravings by Stefan Martin, like the tiny house in the woods, the finely wrought masks, and flowers, and emerging from the miniature, a splendid stalk of Brussels sprouts.

Sally Lennington Kustader, Princeton, ceramist, has at Gallery 100 a round bowl ($35) in deep blue and olive with charcoal center, and a simple oval vase four inches tall in deep charcoal and a retreating turquoise ($51).

Elizabeth Menzies, another Princeton artist, is represented by some colorful abstracts like "Wheat Fields" with its luminous brightness, and Abby Shahn, who lives not too far away, has a pensive pastel nude for $39.

Lithographs, serigraphs, etchings and pre-Columbian artifacts round out the Gallery 100 show and sale. And don't miss the little Cambodian heads for about $10 (Money Tree, too.)

From the Past, Silver Shop has two Godey prints (1861-62) and Don Swann's Princeton etchings, $15 each, more or less, and a Currier and Ives, "Shooting on the Beach." Ink on silk is the medium in Kung Ping's long scroll, $35, and in the more elaborate pagoda scene, also on a scroll.

Little Gallery has two Dawkins prints, early, of Princeton, in panorama. Original old prints, botanical, nautical, historical and equestrian, are about $10 at the Little Gallery, and original new prints—Brague, for example, are up to $60.

Two pottery pigeons at Princeton. Decorating a re-ruffled and puffed in their glazed white pottery feathers. New pieces of Cybis sculpture include a 12-inch Madonna bust with wreath and shoulder mantle, and a five-inch angel, kneeling.

Native African wood carvings (ebony) are at the University Store ad Vietds. The U Store has Tanganyikan bookends dressed as stylized heads, for $15.

Males' Book Shop and the University Store are the places to buy "Picasso's Picassos," possibly the art book of the year. Another is the Skira "Treasures of Asia-Japanese Painting."

Okokura Kazuka's "The Book of Tea," cased, is a Christmas treasure from Japan for a connoisseur, and so are the Hokusai Sketchbooks and "Hours and Flowers," an accordion date-book of Japanese flower arrangements, $3.95.

Lest you think, however, that all books at Male's are in Japanese, we suggest the

PRINCETONIANS TO PLAY
In Hockey Tournament Here. The 14th annual Lawrenceville Invitational Hockey Tournament will be held this weekend, with eight top eastern schools entered. Among the players will be nine residents of the Princeton area, all of whom first took part in the sport at Princeton Country Day.

A total of 12 games will be played in a day and a half, several of them at Lawrenceville's Lavino Rink if weather permits. If rain or snow interferes, all contests will be staged in Baker Rink. The championship final—with the Piel Memorial Trophy at stake—is scheduled for 2:30 Saturday in Baker Rink.

THEY'LL BE AT HOME THIS WEEKEND: These Princeton residents are on four of the eight teams entered in the annual Lawrenceville Hockey Tournament this weekend. Above are a trio of Choate School forwards—Rob Carrick, Huck Fairman and Nick Hare. At the right, Andover forward Bill Smoyer and Captain Charlie Stuart, defense. Below (left) John Tassie of Lawrenceville and Howard McMorris, a member of Deerfield's defending champions.

All four teams which reached the semi-finals last year are on hand again. Deerfield Academy will defend the title it won in 1960, seeking to become the first school to do so successfully since St. Paul's turned the trick in 1956.

Nichols School, a hockey hotbed in Buffalo which lost to Deerfield, 2-1, in the finals last year, will be on hand again, as will the third and fourth-place winners, Choate and Taft. The four other entries are Andover, Hill, Lawrenceville and Burrillville High School, the latter a Rhode Island entry competing for the first time.

Andover Well Regarded. Chief threat to Deerfield's hopes for repeating is expected to be Andover, second-seeded behind the champions. The Blue has a number of holdovers from last year's standout team, which compiled a 14-1-1 record.

The victory string included triumphs over the Dartmouth, Bowdoin and New Hampshire freshmen; such traditional rivals as St. Paul's, Deerfield and Exeter; and a tie with the Harvard freshmen. Andover's only loss was a 2-1 defeat by the Boston College freshmen.

Three Princeton residents are on the Andover squad— forwards Bill Smoyer and John Odden and Captain Charlie Stuart, a two-year letterman who plays defense. Stuart underwent a knee operation as the result of a football injury in October but recovered in time to take part in the only game Andover has played this season, a 2-1 victory over Melrose High.

Three Country Day alumni are also on the Choate squad, whose third-place finish last year represented the school's top performance in the tournament. All forwards, they are Robbie Carrick, Huck Fairman and Nick Hare. The latter is now a resident of the picturesque community of Shawnee Mission, a suburb of Kansas City, where his parents now live.

Howard "Mac" McMorris is Princeton's sole representative on the Deerfield sextet, which last year achieved its first championship. John Tassie is on the Lawrenceville squad, while John Brikerhoff of Belle Mead plays for the Hill School.

Opening-game pairings send Andover against Lawrenceville Friday morning at 10 on the Lavino Rink ice. At the same hour in Baker Rink, Choate will play Nichols. Other first-round contests call for Burrillville to meet Taft at Lavino Rink at 11:30 Friday while Deerfield is playing Hill at Baker Rink.

The semi-finals are scheduled for Friday afternoon at 3 and 4:30. However, if the weather is inclement, all games will be played in Baker Rink, with the first face off set for 8:30.

Dr. Charles R. Erdman, Jr., is chairman of the committee arranging the tournament. Harrison S. Fraker serves as treasurer, while other members are John F. Bernard, Fred H. Wandelt, William C. Stryker, Laurence H. Tihonen, Donald R. Young, George C. Young and Christopher R. P. Rodgers.

TIGERS TO PLAY TWICE

In Games This Weekend. Rounding out the busy hockey weekend in Baker Rink will be a pair of games on the Princeton varsity schedule. The unbeaten (2-0) Tigers face Colgate Friday night at 8:30 and Northeastern Saturday at 8.

A pair of highly capable Canadians, Jim Hyland and Billy Hill, gave topflight performances Saturday as Princeton trimmed Army, 3-0. Hill followed his fine exhibition against Middlebury with his whitewash of Army, kicking out 33 shots, a number of them at point-blank range.

Hyland got the victors' first and last goals, with Dave Hershey of the second line inserting a tally between Hyland's efforts. All the scoring came in the second period.

A desultory first round, in which Army outshot the home team 14 to 5, was followed by the victors' outburst in the second session. The cadets lost the initiative, the Tigers kept the pressure on goalie Ron Chisholm and Hill earned a shutout—something last year's team could not accomplish in 23 games.

It could be that the Orange and Black will achieve a hockey rarity at Princeton: victory in its first four games. Both Colgate and Northeastern were among the nine victims last winter, and the current edition—battered by Hill and Captain Austin Sullivan on defense—seems the equal of its predecessor.

FIVE MEN—NO MORE

Substitutes Ride the Bench. In the 30 minutes of combined action against Villanova and Army last week, Princeton's basketball team used its five starting players for all but about 60 seconds. That brief interlude was marked by the insertion of sophomore Dick Johnston to give Bill Haarlow a quick breather in the overtime win against Army.

Otherwise, Jake McCandless went with the basic quintet on whose ability rides virtually 100 percent of the Tigers' chances for success this season. They did well, battling a particularly impressive Villanova team down to the wire before losing, 72-66, and then erasing an early ten-point deficit to top the cadets, 72-68.

The game with Army produced little polished basketball, was marred by a fairly steady degree of over-officiating, but provided spectator compensation through the excitement that comes only with

Two Named All-Ivy

The town of Princeton, which has a knack of making a name for itself in unique ways, last week
achieved another distinction. It is the only community in the nation in which two members of the all-Ivy soccer team live.

They are Webb Harrison,
Princeton sophomore, of 9
Battle Road, and Dave Smoyer, Dartmouth Junior,
of 82 Olden Lane. Harrison is a forward, Smoyer the goalie on the team.

Added Smoyer family
note: Brother Bill (picture, page 29) has been elected
captain of the Andover soccer team for 1962.

a decision reached in an extra period.

Army tied the score at 63-all with 41 seconds to go, and had the last shot with three seconds left in regulation time.
When the cadets missed that one, it was their last real chance to win, because Pete Campbell became hotter as the second half progressed. In all,
he accounted for 22 points in the final 25 minutes, getting six of the Tigers' nine in the extra session.

Balance Is There. Three of the regulars averaged in double figures for the games last week. Campbell was top man with 24 for the two games,
followed by Al Kaemmerlen with 15 and Art Hyland with 14.5.

Whitehouse had 12 against Army, and Harlow is giving indication of ability to become a very useful "fifth man."
Best factor working in the Tigers' favor was their ability to hold down on the number of personal fouls they drew.
Three violations is the greatest number charged to any one player in either game.

Villanova had more polish
than Princeton could match, leading all the way in one of the best games Dillon Gym has seen in several years. The Wildcats shot at a great 50 percent rate from the floor.
Princeton contributing a standout 46 percent average while losing.

Walter Jones, a lithe, slightly-built Negro, connected on

SURROUNDED, BUT KAEMMERLEN HITS FOR TWO.
Army had the taller players but Al Kaemmerlen (34) had a good night under the boards as Tigers defeated cadets in overtime, 72-68. (Thomas Miner Photo.)

13 of 17 field goal attempts with a fascinating fade-away twist. His 28 points for Villa-nova, many of them at key points in the hard-fought contest, just about made the difference.

The Tigers were on the road
this Wednesday, confronting an always-difficult Temple five at Philadelphia. Another game away, against Navy at Annapolis, is scheduled for Saturday afternoon.

Princeton will be at home
next Wednesday night when Rutgers comes to Dillon Gym.
The combination of Campbell's consistent scoring, Kaemmerlen's good all-around play and the balance reflected by the team as a unit should take the Tigers a long ways in the weeks ahead.

PHS FIVE WINS OPENER

Opposes Ewing Friday. The Princeton High School basketball team which combined the 35-point performance of George Tucker, some outrageous ball thievery and a fast break to crush Hightstown, 72-34 in its opener Friday at Hightstown, will take to the road twice more this week.
The Little Tigers will oppose Ewing Friday and Hunterdon
Central Tuesday, both away.

The opening victory should prove to be a tremendous shot in the arm for Princeton High's sagging basketball fortunes. Having lost all but one of its games last year, PHS resembles a team that has finally been freed from the stocks after a long and public humiliation. While one triumph doesn't make a season
an aura of optimism and of release is evident everywhere.
As Borzok put it into words,
"We're going to win a few this year."

"Considering it was their first game, the boys worked as a unit and played well together," said Borzok. "It looked as if I could take any one person out and replace him
with another without any loss.
Our experience has shown itself already. I'm definitely well pleased with their showing."

A confident Hightstown team was the victim of the Blue and White resurgence.
Games between the two schools have always been close and Hightstown usually took advantage of those played on its home court. "They clobbered us twice last year," said Borzok "and they appeared confident as they came out on the floor that they were going to do it again."

The sharp reversal in form of the Little Tigers prompted Borzok to describe it as the "greatest difference in two teams since I've been here." (This is Borzok's ninth year as head coach.) "With the boys we lost but should have had back this year — Kowalski, Hank Schmidt and Gil Fischer — just imagine the potential we would have had," said Borzok. "But the boys I have seem to have taken up the slack."

PHS was ahead from the start. It jumped to a commanding 19-6 lead at the end of the first quarter and increased this to a 34-10 margin at the half. Nor did it ever let up, scoring 23 points in the final period. "That's the way it is going to be this year," remarked Borzok. "We have the type of boys who have a strong desire to win and they keep plugging to the final whistle." The Little Tigers helped their own cause immeasurably by stealing the ball 22 times from the losers and calling on a fast break to turn most of the thefts into PHS points. Backing up Tucker's standout performance were Charlie Pemberton with ten points and Hank Schmidt with nine. Both are veterans from last year's squad.

HUN FACES BRYN ATHYN

In Home Opener, The Hun School basketball team will play its home opener Friday at 3 when it meets Bryn Athyn in the Princeton Seminary gymnasium. The game, Hun's second of the season, will be its first Penn-Jersey Conference contest.

Last year, Coach Dan Barren's Red and Black quintet posted a 6-5 conference record to tie for third place. The title in the two-state loop was won by neighboring Pennington. This season, the conference is very well matched, according to Barren, who reported that "no team is going to run away with the title."

In trying to earn top honors for the first time in the three-year-old league, Barren can call on the services of three lettermen. They are Jim Byer, 6'-1" pivotman and top rebounder last year for the Johnny Huns; and Gary Grover and C. A. Hale, two sharpshooting guards, both under six feet. Grover and Byer are co-captains of the Hun squad.

Other players who have had experience and who are fighting for a starting position include six-foot Alex Langel, who played in half of Hun's contests last year; Al Staller, another six-footer who was sidelined the second half of the season by illness; Guy Wirsig, who has added a few inches to his height and "should be a big asset to the team." Frank "Smokie" Black, better known for his pitching for Hun than for his basketball prowess but not lacking in experience on the court; and Jim Steiger, who at 6'4" is the tallest man on the Hun team. Steiger, Wirsig, Black and co-captain Grover are all Princeton residents. From some 35 candidates who tried out for the team, one of the largest groups in several years, Coach Barren has cut his squad to 17. Only six of the 17 are seniors which means that, barring injuries or transfers, Barren will have two full squads coming back next season.

LEAGUE OPENS SEASON

Six Teams Play. The Research and Industrial Basketball League of the Princeton YMCA opened its 1961-62 season last week in the Princeton High School gym. Six of the seven teams in the league saw action.

38 IN 39 YEARS: William Dumble of 62 Wiggins Street holds the head of an 8-point, 110-pound buck, the 38th he has taken in 39 years of hunting. Mr. Dumble shot this one with a .32 Winchester Special in Bradford County, Pa., nine hours after the season had opened in the Keystone state. With a candor not often associated with hunters, he admitted missing two before getting this one. Three on year he missed? It wasn't his shooting eye; he was in the hospital for the duration of the season. (Staff Photo.)

YMCA defeated IDA, 43-34. RCA Labs downed Sannino A.C., 44-37, and RCA Astro beat FMC, 41-24. ETS drew a bye for the first week of play. The league plans a 14-week season, playing every Tuesday evening at 7:15.

Ray Cevera and Dick Lanan scored 13 and 12 points, respectively, to lead the YMCA squad. Joe Burns led RCA Labs, the defending champs, with ten points. Bob Kehoe had 12 for Sannino. Jerry Gibbs was high scorer for RCA Astro with ten.

LARRIE TEAMS REST

Over Holidays. Lawrenceville's basketball, swimming and wrestling teams will be idle over the Christmas recess and will not return to action until January. Only the hockey team will remain active this weekend (see page 29).

The basketball team, possessing a 1-1 record, was scheduled to face Poly Prep on Wednesday. The team defeated Trinity-Pawling, 58-47, in its opener, but lost a 46-43 overtime decision to Haverford School Saturday.

Haverford lead a six-point (18-12) at the end of the first quarter, and the Larries spent the rest of the game trying to catch up. Mark Haley's jump shot with time running out knotted the score at 43-43 and sent the contest into overtime. Haverford's Steve Schaffer made a field goal and a free throw while the Larries went scoreless in the overtime period. The hockey team opened its season Saturday with a 9-3 victory over the Franklin & Marshall Hockey Club. The wrestling team lost to the Princeton Freshmen, 28-5, but the swimming team swamped the Lehigh Freshmen, 77-17.

John Beatty and Ed Kingery set school records in the swimming meet. Beatty chopped 17.4 seconds off the record in the 400-yard freestyle. His time was 4:24.8. Kingery set a record in the 200-yard individual medley, splashing to victory in a time of 2:15.8.

Too old to buy insurance?

Being over 65 is no barrier to the purchase of new life insurance. And for many people in their sixties or seventies it can be a very wise "buy."

Here's an example. A man age 75, has a substantial number of investments. At death, estate taxes will have to be paid. To raise the cash, income-producing assets have to be sold, often with severe losses to the beneficiaries. Life insurance can prevent this loss by providing the necessary cash.

Manufacturers Life has a sound reputation for its liberal approach to insuring older people for the purpose of estate conservation or for guaranteeing the continuity of a business. Our representatives are qualified to provide competent counsel to help our senior citizens meet these special needs.

HARBISON WORK SET
By High School Singers.
The first performance of a Cantata for Chorus and Organ
by John Harbison will be given next Wednesday at 8:15
p.m. when the Princeton High School vocal groups present a Christmas concert in University Chapel.

Mr. Harbison, who was graduated from Princeton High School six years ago, is now a composition student under Rogers Sessions at Princeton. He has also studied under Walter Piston.

A graduate of Harvard, Mr. Harbison won several composition prizes during his undergraduate years, and also won a Paine Travelling fellowship for study in Europe.

In addition to the Harbison work, the high school vocal groups will sing the Mozart Vespers, K-399. Thomas Hilbish is conductor of the groups.

CHRISTMAS REHEARSAL: Boys and girls in the St. Paul's School choir have been rehearsing for the Christmas Pageant to be presented Sunday afternoon and evening. Sister Jonathan coaches Laura Bunimara, eighth grader, and Richard Judge, sixth grade. (Staff Photo.)

THE CHOIRS WILL SING The program was varied and extremely interesting, especially for those not particularly addicted to folk music. Mr. Seeger began with hobo and prison songs, moved briefly into spirituals, sang some ancient and modern blues numbers and closed with his own personal hits, "Careless Love" and "Abiyoyo."

Mr. Seeger sings with a rich, full baritone voice which is very smooth and a welcome contrast to many modern folk-singers who believe a common voice should suit the music of the people. His accomplishments on the banjo and the 12-string guitar (an amazingly cumbersome instrument) are quite incredible. It's also refreshing these days to see a guitar player without swivel hips and not connected by wires to ten stereo amplifiers.

SERVICE WILL BE BACH
"Magnificat" at Church.
Mary's song of praise from the first chapter of Luke, the "Magnificat" will be sung in Bach's 35-minute setting at the 11 a.m. worship service at First Presbyterian Church this Sunday.

Mary T. Krimmel, organist and music director for the church, will be assisted at the organ by Anna Royer. A small instrumental ensemble will consist of Dorothy Kovacs and June Trapp, flutists and David Wells, cellist.

Soloists will be Ruth Bent and Virginia Swatten, sopranos; Harriet Blizzard and Nancy Dodson, altos; Warren Dodson and Paul Comer, tenors, and John Salmon, bass.

In performing the "Magnificat" during the regular Sunday service, the Adult Choir of the church will be following a custom inherited from Bach's own time. It is believed that Bach composed the work for his first Christmas service as cantor of the school of St. Thomas Church, Leipzig, in 1723.

COMPOSER: John Harbison, young Princeton composer whose music will be sung by Princeton High School Choir.

VESPER SERVICE SET
In University Chapel. The University Choir and the Sarah Lawrence Chorus will give the annual Christmas Vesper Service Sunday at 3:30 in the University Chapel.

Christmas music by Lassus and Praetorius will be sung by the University group, under the direction of Carl Weinrich, while the Sarah Lawrence Chorus, directed by Harold Ales, will sing works by Kodaly and Verdi. Compositions by Purcell des Pres, Vitoria and Saccinck will be presented by both choirs.

Soloists will be Tucky Rammus, Jack Myers, Hugh Griffiths, Lewis Kanawischer and Christopher Kelly.

PETE SEEGER SCORES
In Late, Late Show. Folk-singer Pete Seeger gave an unusual performance to an unusual audience in the wee small hours of Saturday morning, but was well-received for an impressive and historically interesting show. Beginning shortly after Friday midnight, Mr. Seeger provided an almost two-hour tour through the realms of folk music for a capacity crowd in McCarter Theatre.

Mr. Seeger was unusual in that he was mulling lines and forgetting lyrics in too many songs. The audience was unusually quiet for a folk-singing audience (no foot-stamping or hand-clapping) and actually had to be persuaded to participate in the singing. As Mr. Seeger explained, however, "It's the middle of the night for some of us," and that might account for it.

"A phone for the kitchen? Easy enough. What's your favorite color?"

Christmas" at the University Store.

Music: Old and New. Music Center's Christmas record offering is "A Christmas Offering" sung by Leontyne Price and presented with Herbert von Karajan. The Berlioz "Enfance du Christ," long neglected, has received more attention in recent years, and the Music Center offers it, in French, from Editions de L'Oiseau-Lyre with the St. Anthony singers.

The play of Daniel, the 12th century music drama done by New York's Pro Musica, is still a top Christmas record. University Store has it. Christmas music from Brazil, Sweden, Poland, Mexico, Cuba, Italy, Germany and France breaks forth from the University Store.

We're slightly appalled at Christmas music from Stan Kenton, but the U. Store assures us it's not hard to listen to. We're even less sure about Christmas music with Mitch Miller.

Next week, we will conclude this series of five shopping columns with a menu of food and drink and a toast to the New Year.

Music In Princeton

Possibly the most interesting thing about the folk music which Mr. Seeger presented is its constant political implication. Growing out of the people, it must naturally be associated with the political ideas of the times, and Mr. Seeger showed plainly that the folk spirit is still alive with a wonderful "talking blues" song about the atomic bomb. Many folk songs have direct political connotations, he pointed out, such as the "C.C. Blues" or the "W.P.A. Blues" of the 1930's.

The most impressive song of the evening was an old Negro spiritual, "We Shall Overcome," which is very simple and had the complete audience participation of over 1,000 voices. A forthright, moving hymn, it takes on much more significance when Mr. Seeger explains that it was chosen as the theme song for the Negro sit-in demonstrators, and that the Negro college students of Montgomery, Ala., added a final verse, "We shall not be afraid."

While we can't quite agree with Mr. Seeger that the blues is a lovelier art form than the sonnet, the singer still made a strong case for his point. His rendition of blues pieces was an intriguing experience, almost as much as his performances of two Indonesian and Scottish folk songs in the native dialects.

All in all, Mr. Seeger put on a fascinating show: good folk music for the connoisseur and an educational introduction to the form for the uninitiated. He was called back for two encores. The audience still wanted a third and probably more. But it was very late.

SERKIN TO PLAY

In Series II Concert. The third in Series II of the University Concerts will be given Sunday at 8:30 in McCarter Theatre, with Rudolph Serkin, pianist, as the solo performer. Seventy-five seats on the stage, at $2.50, and 50 standing room tickets, at $1.50, will be sold at the box office from 7:30 on Sunday.

Mr. Serkin will play Beethoven's Sonata in G Major, Max Reger's Variations and Fugue on a Theme by J. S. Bach, and Chopin's 24 Preludes. Born in Bohemia (now part of Czechoslovakia), he made his debut at the age of 12 with the Vienna Symphony, and began his concert career five years later.

A spectacularly successful pianist for the past 40 years, he has been cited by the Herald Tribune critic as "the greatest living pianist, equalled by no other pianist and no other interpretative musician." Since 1939, he has lived in this country, and is currently head of the piano department of the Curtis Institute in Philadelphia.

CHRISTMAS CONCERT SET By Westminster College. A Christmas concert for the students and faculty of the Westminster Choir College will be given by the school Monday evening at 8:30 in the College Chapel.

Those participating in the program include Dr. Alexander McCurdy, organist; Flora G. McCurdy, harpist; and Janice Harsanyi, soprano. The Columbus Boychoir under the direction of Robert Haley will also participate.

BOWLING NOTES

Lead Cut to One Point. The King Pins (43) swept their ETS series last week and cut the lead of Research II to a slim half-game to highlight Princeton bowling action. Research I was third with 38 points. In other league play, COB moved into first place in the Faculty League, a game ahead of Physics and MAAD, tied at 48 points each. And Princeton Market (51) continued to pace the Classic loop with a nine-point lead over Pine Tree and Tiger Garage. In other league action, the Crescents maintained a 13-point edge over Tiger Garage and Para Lab Supply, tied at 42 each in the Industrial circuit, and Kingston (52) topped the Tri-County Fireman's League, three games ahead of PJVD. Both the "A" and "B" leaders remained unchanged. Princeton Inn (62) five games ahead of Nini Motors in the former, and Edwards Engraving two games up on Prince Laundry and Sportsmen No. 1, tied at 48 points each, in the latter.

Conover Motors paced the Women's League, five points ahead of Amroo Homes (77), and Jefferson Plumbing (80) continued in the top spot in the Women's Industrial loop, nine points up on Gale Cleaners. Carol Harris rolled the high ladies' games with a pair of 188 scores in the Women's loop. Other notable games included Helen Tamasi, 186, and Helen Scott, 183, in the Women's League, and Loretta Sculerati, 187, in the Women's Industrial circuit.

Harry Kahny paced the "B" League with 244-212 and a 649 series, followed by Milton Shinn, 234; Nick Rossi, 207; Tom Friel, 206; Frank Delmono, 203; John Baldino, 201.

News Of The CHURCHES

"MAGNIFICAT" FEATURE

At First Church, The Adult Choir of First Presbyterian Church will sing Bach's "Magnificat" at the 11 a.m. worship service this Sunday. Mrs. Mary T. Krummel, organist and director of music, will be assisted at the organ by Miss Anna Royer.

All of the soloists are members of the regular Sunday morning choir. They include Ruth Bent and Virginia Switten, sopranos; Harriet Blizard and Nancy Dodson, altos; Warren Dodson and Paul Conner, tenors; and John Salmon, bass.

ORDINATION SET

At All Saints' Chapel, The Rev. Harold J. Wilson, assistant in Trinity Parish, will be ordained at services Sunday at 8 p.m. in All Saints' Chapel.

The Rt. Rev. Wilburn C. Campbell, Bishop of the Diocese of West Virginia, will officiate at the ordination. Bishop Campbell is also scheduled to preach Sunday at 11 a.m. in Princeton University Chapel. Mr. Wilson's father, the Rev. Harold M. Wilson, will be preacher at the ordination. The Rev. Rowland J. Cox, chaplain for the Procter Foundation, will be litanist, and Mr. Wilson will be presented by the Rev. Charles C. Newberry, vicar of All Saints' Chapel.

BULLETIN NOTES

Annual Christmas bazaar staged by the Women's Alliance of Princeton Unitarian Church will be held Saturday from 2 to 6 p.m. at the church. Items for sale will include Christmas novelties and wreaths, and Christmas food, including cookies, candies and cakes.

The Rev. Dr. William T. Parker, pastor of First Baptist Church, is recuperating at home following an operation last month. He has expressed his appreciation to all those who have remembered him during his illness, and said that he soon hopes to be able to attend a service at the church. Services at First Baptist are being conducted by the Rev. O. D. McGowen during Mr. Parker's absence.

The 11th annual children's Christmas pageant of Six Mile Run Reformed Church, Franklin Park, will be held Sunday at 4 p.m. Mrs. Clifford Cortelyou and Wilson Barry are directors. A buffet supper will be served afterwards and members of the Senior High group will go carolling at 7:30 p.m.

"Lessons and Carols"

The annual service of "Lessons and Carols" will be presented this Sunday at 4:30 p.m. in Trinity Episcopal Church. The service is patterned after one given each year at King's College, England.

Lessons will be read by various members of the congregation. The readings will be interspersed with carols, sung by an augmented choir. The music will be under the direction of Raymond E. Rudy, organist and choirmaster. The service is open to the public.

The Youth Fellowship of First Presbyterian Church will sponsor a "Snow Ball Dance" next Friday, December 22, from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. at the church. Music will be by the Alan Rosley Quartet, plus two tickets, at 50 cents each, may be obtained from Tom Wilson, Judy Wyckoff, Mary Lyn Raley or Linda McDonough.

The Women's Fellowship of Princeton Baptist Church, Penns Neck, will hold a Christmas party next Thursday, December 21, at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. George Heisserman, Washington Road, Penns Neck. Mrs. Archer Vaughn, president, will preside, and devotions will be led by Mrs. Earl Mertz. Mrs. August Bucher and Mrs. Cyril Davidson are program chairmen.

Obituaries

Joseph Joustra, a Princeton resident for 50 years, died December 5 at the home of his son, Wilbur J. Joustra, 2703 Princeton Pike. He was born in Holland, and moved to his son's home four years ago.

Surviving, besides his son Wilbur, are his wife, Mary L. Joustra; another son, Rudolph Elhart of Princeton; and two grandchildren. The Rev. Hugh Liffiton, pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church, officiated at the service, held at the Kimble Funeral Home. Burial was in Colonial Memorial Park, Trenton.

Mrs. Edna S. Stewart, 71, of New Road, Monmouth Junction, died December 6 in Princeton Hospital. The widow of Theodore W. Stewart, she was a member of Princeton Chapter 91, OES.

She is survived by a son, Paul R. Stewart; two daughters, Mrs. Catherine Conover and Mrs. Gladys Wallington; a sister, Mrs. Leroy Carlisle, all of Monmouth Junction; seven grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

The funeral took place in Cranbury, with interment in Dayton Cemetery.

Mrs. Jesina Madsen, 91, of River Road, Griggstown, died December 8 in Somerset Hospital, Somerville. The widow of John Madsen, she was born in Norway.

She is survived by three sons, J. Stanley and Magnus of Griggstown, and Thomas T. of Tenafly.

The funeral was held at the Kimble Funeral Home, with interment in Greenwood Cemetery, Brooklyn.

Mrs. Esther Felt Bentley, 57, assistant curator of manuscripts at Firestone Library, died December 8 at her home, 113 FitzRandolph Road. She was a former president of the University League and a co-founder of the University League Nursery School.

A Princeton resident since 1945, when her husband, George E. Bentley, became a professor in the English department, she catalogued thousands of papers from the collection of Samuel Southern, an early 19th century political figure, during the last few years.

Surviving are her husband; her mother, Mrs. Roland Felt of Perry, Okla.; a son, George E. Jr. of Toronto, Canada; and two granddaughters.

A memorial service will be held next Wednesday at 4 in the University Chapel. Dean Ernest Gordon will officiate. In lieu of flowers, it is requested that donations be made in Mrs. Bentley's name to the University League Nursery School, care of Mrs. Henry Broad, 41 Pardoe Road.

Mrs. Mary Owens English of 131 John Street, died December 8 in Princeton Hospital. The wife of James M. English, she was a member of the Ladies Aid of Witherspoon Presbyterian Church; American Woodmen, Camp 12; Rising Sun Temple 119; Aaron Chapter 80, OES; Eureka Council of Cyrenes and King David Tabernacle 6, Order of Moses.

The funeral was held at her home, with the Rev. G. C. Ash-ton officiating. Burial was in Princeton Cemetery.

Thomas F. Larkin, 71, of 279 Ewing Street, died December 11 in Princeton Hospital, following a brief illness. A Princeton resident for over 40 years, he retired last year as superintendent of the Prospect Apartments for Princeton University, a position he had held for 15 years.

The husband of Catherine Egan Larkin, he was born in Ireland, and was a member of the American Legion and the Holy Name Society. Besides his wife, he is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Mary Devanney of Trenton, and Mrs. Michael Kennedy and Mrs. Daniel Hogan, both in Ireland; four brothers, Joseph of Princeton, and John, Michael and Paul in Ireland; and several nieces and nephews.

Solemn requiem mass will be celebrated at 11 this Thursday at St. Paul's Church. Interment will be in St. Mary's cemetery in Trenton, under the direction of the Kimble Funeral Home.

Miss Anna Lena Barron, 80, of 46 Chestnut Street, died December 10 in Suburban Hospital, Bethesda, Md., after a short illness. A native of Halifax, Nova Scotia, she had lived in Princeton for the past 42 years. Prior to her retirement in 1940, she was a librarian at Princeton University. She was a member of the Altar and Rosary Society of St. Paul's Church.

Surviving is a nephew, Edward Carr of Bethesda. Requiem high mass will be celebrated at 9:30 this Thursday at St. Paul's Church, with interment in the parish cemetery, under the direction of the Kimble Funeral Home.

Mrs. Emma F. Gulick, 91, a former Princeton resident, died December 12 at the Union Forge Nursing Home, Clinton. Born in Blawenburg, she was the widow of Charles Van Dyke Gulick.

She is survived by two brothers, Alvin Duryea, with whom she lived, and Augustus Duryea, both of Somerville. The service will be held this Thursday at 2 at the Speer Funeral Home in Somerville. Burial will be in Princeton Cemetery.

Sports In Princeton

and Bill Pinelli, 200. Other top scores included Doug Latimer, 211-202; Dave Burroughs, 208; Robert Reed, 205; Joe Ruberto, 202; and Russ Watson, Charles Perpetua, Val Ranallo and Frank Maddalon, all with 200, in the "A" loop; and Val Ranallo, 200, in the ETS circuit.

Also, John Cashill, 234; Jack Cavanaugh, 212; Red Holmes, 211; Ken Luck, 207; Bob Mirinski, 202; and Frank Stofko, 202-201, in the Firemen's loop; Ben Trani, 217; Joe Viglione, 215; Mike Zeccola, 212; Nick Sculerati, 207-200; Joe Baldinb, 205; Harry Kahny, 203, and Bill Cavanaugh, 200 in the Classic League; and Bill Sculerati, 212, and Dave Compton, 200, in the Industrial loop.

PHS BOWS TO FREEHOLD
In Final Seconds. With two seconds to play, Freehold's Don Ollivier hit for a game-ending basket to give Freehold High School a come-from-behind, 45-43 victory over Princeton High Tuesday afternoon. The Little Tigers had led by seven points with two minutes to play.

PHS lost the game at the foul line. In the closing minutes, the visitors committed several violations in their attempt to get the ball, but, to their good fortune, Coach Tony Borzok's five was unable to convert them into points. George Tucker, who with 21 points accounted for half of his team's total, missed six foul shots in the last quarter. In all, the Blue and White missed 16 free throws.

The defeat was a bitter one for Coach Borzok. "I don't mind losing to teams when we have played our best to the very end," he said, "but this is the same type of spiritless play that caused us to lose 16 times last year. If we get started in that rut again, we're in for trouble. I know we should have beaten this team by 20 points—I'm convinced of that. It's the games you should have won but lose which are the tough ones to take."

TWENTY BOYS ATTEND Basketball Clinic. Twenty boys attended a basketball clinic Saturday at the Princeton High School gymnasium conducted by Pete Campbell, Princeton University basketball star, for boys in the 6th, 7th and 8th grades.

Attending were: Douglas Van Doren, Tim Barron, Karl Stange, Lamont Tucker, Jerry McGowan, John Wheeler, George McGowan, Jesse Tamasi, Michael Skillman, Randy Cox, John Madden, Conway McGowan, Ralph Davis, Charles Madden, Thomas Wood, Greg Donaldson, Jeff Bullock.

Sherwood Owens, Hal Rhuah and Lowell Miller.

THIS HOUSE NEEDS ONLY A FAMILY TO LOVE IT

$39,750 SEEMS A REASONABLE PRICE TO PAY for the glow of firelight that warms the living room on a winter's eve; for the feeling of pride when you stand before the graceful Colonial staircase to welcome your guests into the inviting entrance hall. Small price indeed, when you hear Mother's cheerful song as she discovers that cooking can be fun again in her dream kitchen and a delight to serve in the really formal dining room. Then, too, there's the utter peace of mind that comes as Dad relaxes in his paneled den to count the enduring blessings of sound new construction, good design and excellent township location. If you find the privacy of four double bedrooms and two and one-half baths a necessity and crave the overflow space of a screened porch, full basement, and two-car garage, then perhaps you are the family whose love will make this house a home.

LIGHTOLIER LAMPS

Give fashion, function and flexibility with these eye-saving, eye-pleasing Lightolier lamps.

They're beautiful, practical, different — they're gifts that last. And it will be "light" on your budget too at these new low prices. Every seeing task is easier when these Lightoliers light the way. Lumilon desk lamp is scientifically designed to flood glare-free light over a wide area, without harsh background shadows. Three-way light adjusts to most comfortable level. Shade-diffuser drip-dries to clean, and is practically indestructible. Available in subtle color combinations that suit any setting, including study, family room or office.

A table lamp elegantly styled to harmonize with traditional furnishings possesses all the fine lighting features of Lumilon. In white with antique gold trim. Shade diameter 15 1/2". Height 25". $25.90

Right:
20/20 Reading Lamp directs ample task light downward, illuminates surrounding areas with a lovely halo of light. Broad shade tilts to any position. Shaft rotates and telescopes. $24.95

vate, well-landscaped lot $37,500

FOR THE CRAFTSMAN, THE HOB-BYIST, OR THE INVETERATE PUTTER — Loads of room in which to exercise your special talent. Besides a 26 foot living room, there are two big paneled all-purpose rooms, one with fireplace, both with built-in cabinets and indirect lighting. There is a sizeable plant room with glass walls and southern exposure. Adjoining is the perfect potting or dark room fitted out with cabinets and sink.
The kitchen is modern, the three bedrooms will take twin beds, both bathrooms are tiled and the lot has many trees. Does it sound good in Princeton Township at $32,000?

FOR THE KIOS? Not a dolly, not a dog, nor even a sled, but room for those activities that make childhood a growing, learning experience. Four bedrooms so they can have a room of their very own for those so important little girl and boy dreams. Huge family room, dining room, and grand kitchen. Two and one-half perfectly located baths, large attached garage. A gift that can't miss.
$27,400

MOTHER DESERVES MORE LEI-SURE—And she'll have it always if you begin by letting her COOK this year's Christmas turkey in a fabulous new kitchen. This one has everything including a big dining area and a no-step pass-through to the paneled family room. The rest of the house will make her life a cinch. One floor arrangement of living and dining rooms, three bed rooms, and two tile baths. Better than-new condition and, better than that, it's so near everything that Mama's chauffeuring will be cut in half. $48,500
